

Weed Alert!

Eupatory, thoroughwort

Eupatory, thoroughwort

(Ageratina adenophora)

Mature Size Waist

Description

- 2-6 ft. perennial shrub with nearly flat-topped clusters of white flowers
- Small flowers are creamy white to pinkish
- Slender, tiny seeds are topped with a ring of numerous white hairs

- Leaves are opposite, trowel-shaped and toothed, 2-4 in. long and 1-2½ in. wide
- Reproduces by seed
- Spread by wind, water, soil movement, recreation, animals
- Native to southern and central Mexico

Bloom Period Apr - Aug, although may bloom year-round

Habitat Disturbed sites, coastal regions, riparian,

2-Minute Removal Pull

Image credits: Front and back: J.M. DiTomaso ©2007 The Regents of the University of California; icons by Tim Hyland
These cards were adapted from a design by National Park Service.