

Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings Bibliography (1995-2006)

Entries listed by scientific and common names

A. rosea (1)

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Abies spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

absinth wormwood (1)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

abstract (12)

Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.

Deuser, C. (1998). Exotic plant control to preserve and restore riparian areas in numerous national park units. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 67-68.

DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.

Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.

Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

Acacia (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Acacia dealbata (1)

Horowitz, M. (2003). Alternatives to chemical stump treatment of Acacia dealbata. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Acacia longifolia (1)

Blossey, B. (1996). The search for patterns or what determines the increased competitive ability of invasive non-indigenous plants? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Acacia nilotica (1)

Humphries, S. E. (1996). Australian national weeds strategy: What are the lessons? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Acaena anserinifolia (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Acaena novae-zelandiae (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Acaena pallida (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Acanthomintha ilicifolia (1)

Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Acaena novaezelandiae (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Acer saccharinum (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Aceria (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Aceria salsolae (2)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Aceria solstitialis (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Achnatherum brachychaetum (4)

Gerlach, J. D. (1997). How the west was lost: Reconstructing the invasion dynamics of yellow star-thistle and other plant invaders of western rangelands and natural areas. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97.

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Achras racemosa (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Acroptilon repens (5)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J. (2005). Preventing weed spread via contaminated hay and straw. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Gerlach, J. D. (1997). How the west was lost: Reconstructing the invasion dynamics of yellow star-thistle and other plant invaders of western rangelands and natural areas. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97.

Smith, R. L., V. F. Carrithers, et al. (2006). Managing rangeland invasive plants with Aminopyralid (Milestone™). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Aegilops cylindrica (1)

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Aegilops triuncialis (6)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M., A. Merenlender, et al. (2000). Control of barbed goatgrass using prescribed burning. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Gelbard, J. L. and S. Harrison (2001). Interactive effects of roads, soils, and exposure on invasion of Calif. grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D. (2000). Bear Creek watershed restoration program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Aeschynomene virginica (1)

Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

African asparagus fern (1)

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ageratina adenopherum (1)

Bomkamp, T. (1993). The distribution and impacts of escaped exotic Ageratina adenophora in California: A preliminary assessment. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 11.

Ageratina adenophora (1)

Alvarez, M. and L. Ponzini (2003). Control of Ageratina adenophora in the Marin Headlands, Golden Gate National Recreation Area. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

agricultural conversion (1)

Dyer, A. (1999). How landscape changes occurred in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Agropyron cristatum (1)

Goodwin, K. (2005). Montana weed prevention areas: Partnerships for rangeland protection. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Agropyron desertorum (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Agrostis avenacea (1)

Bauder, E. T. (1996). Exotics in the southern California bernal pool ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Agrostis oregonensis (1)

Corbin, J. D. and C. M. D'Antonio (2000). Does sawdust addition reduce soil ammonium levels and promote native grass growth in competition with exotic grasses? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ahthemis (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ailanthus altissima (8)

Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. and G. Kyser (2002). Trial of several herbicides and application techniques for control of Ailanthus altissima, Upper Putah Creek, Yolo County. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Jackson, N. E. (1996). Control of exotic weeds with Roundup herbicide: A survey of projects around the world. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Kelly, M. (2001). Results of basal bark application of Garlon4 on Ailanthus altissima (tree of heaven). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests: How some exotic plants reached the American southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Aira caryophylla (3)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hastings, M. S. and J. M. DiTomaso (1996). Fire controls yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) in California grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Aira praecox (2)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Alameda song sparrow (1)

Nordby, J. C., A. N. Cohen, et al. (2004). Behavioral responses of birds to invasive spartina in San Francisco Bay salt marshes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

algae (3)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Board, S. C. C. A. T. C. R. W. Q. C. (2001). The invasive marine alga, Caulerpa taxifolia in southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thornber, C., B. Kinlan, et al. (2002). Invasion ecology of the Japanese alga Undaria pinnatifida in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Woodfield, R. (2001). Killer algae, the rapid response to Caulerpa taxifolia, a case study in a multi-agency project. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Alhagi camelorum (2)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests: How some exotic plants reached the American southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Alhagi maurorum (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Alhagi pseudalhagi (1)

Gerlach, J. D. (1997). How the west was lost: Reconstructing the invasion dynamics of yellow star-thistle and other plant invaders of western rangelands and natural areas. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97.

alien (2)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

alkali heath (1)

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

alligatorweed (1)

Leavitt, J. R. and C. Piroso (2002). A brief overview of the California Dept. of Food and Agriculture's A-rated noxious weed education and eradication program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Allium triquetrum (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Alternanthera philoxeroides (3)

Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Leavitt, J. R. and C. Pirosko (2002). A brief overview of the California Dept. of Food and Agriculture's A-rated noxious weed education and eradication program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Alternanthera philoxeroides (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Amaranthus rudis (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ambrosia (2)

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ambrosia pumila (1)

Maher, E. and E. Stanton (2006). Response of the endangered San Diego ambrosia (Ambrosia pumila) to removal of competition from non-native plants. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ambrosia spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Amelanchier (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

American lotus (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

American River (1)

Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.

Ammophila arenaria (9)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hyland, T. and P. Holloran (2005). Controlling European beachgrass (Ammophila arenaria) using prescribed burns and herbicide. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hyland, T. and P. Holloran (2005). Controlling European beachgrass (Ammophila arenaria) using prescribed burns and herbicide. Cal-IPC Symposium. Chico, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Jackson, N. E. (1996). Control of exotic weeds with Roundup herbicide: A survey of projects around the world. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Peterson, B. (2004). The use of heavy machinery (excavators) to remove Ammophila arenaria (European beachgrass) from native sand dunes at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. J. (1997). Control of European beachgrass (Ammophila arenaria) on the west coast of the United States. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Anemopsis californica (1)

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

annual (1)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

annual grasses (1)

Dyer, A. (1999). How landscape changes occurred in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Anonas (1)

Little, R. (2001). Anonas spp. (fieldrest harrow): Rapid response to the first known U.S. infestation. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Anthypurinus biimpressus (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

APHIS (1)

Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Aponogeton distachyon (1)

Bauder, E. T. (1996). Exotics in the southern California bernal pool ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

apricot (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

aquatic(1)

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Arctium spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Arctotheca calendula (4)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

area (2)

Deuser, C. (1998). Exotic plant control to preserve and restore riparian areas in numerous national park units. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 67-68.

Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.

arrowweed (1)

Marchant, T., R. Hobbs, et al. (2006). Restoration of desert wetlands dominated by tamarisk and pampas grass. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

ARS (1)

Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Arsenal (1)

Bell, C. E. (1997). Using Arsenal for brushy species control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Artemisia (1)

Brooks, M. (2001). Introduction and overview of invasive species in the southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Artemisia absinthium (1)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Artemisia douglasiana (1)

Sperber, T. and F. T. Griggs (2005). Suppressing exotic weeds on restoration projects using an aggressive herbaceous understory. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Artemisia tridentata ssp tridentata (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

artichoke thistle (9)

Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Holt, J. S. (2006). Ecological approaches for weed management. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Kelly, M. (2006). Fifteen years later: What were we looking for and what did we get? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Marushia, R. and J. S. Holt (2003). Patterns of seedling establishment in artichoke thistle, Cynara cardunculus. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2001). Emergence and development of Cynara cardunculus: Developing seedling removal strategies for an invasive weed. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2001). Invasion into four plant communities by artichoke thistle, Cynara cardunculus. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2002). Effect of competition on artichoke thistle, Cynara cardunculus. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2003). Prediction of Cynara cardunculus seedling development using a degree-day approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Arundo(5)

Frandsen, P. and N. E. Jackson (1998). Santa Ana River Interagency Habitat Recovery Project, Van Buren Bridge Project Area summary. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Huber, A.-M. (2006). The proliferation of Arundo donax in Arroyo Las Posas. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Kelly, M. (2001). 10 years of CalEPPC. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pitcairn, M. (1998). Biocontrol of Arundo. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Simonsen-Marchant, J., J. Boland, et al. (2006). Assessment of treatment effectiveness and relative cost of giant reed (Arundo donax) removal in the Tijuana River Valley. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Arundo donax (69)

- Ahmad, R., I. Liow, et al. (2005). Analysis of clonal diversity in giant reed (Arundo donax L.) using molecular markers. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
- Bautista, S. (1998). A comparison of two methods for controlling Arundo donax. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Bell, C. (1998). Risks and effects of various control methods. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Bossard, C. (1998). Distribution and effects of exotic species in tropical island environments in Sri Lanka. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.
- Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Coffman, G. C. (2004). Invasion of Arundo donax in riparian ecosystems of Mediterranean-type climates: Causes, impacts and management strategies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Coffman, G. C., T. Dudley, et al. (2005). Are we creating the ideal conditions for Arundo donax invasion in California? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Decruyenaere, J. G. and J. S. Holt (1999). Carbohydrate use of Arundo donax under light-limiting conditions. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Dipietro, D. (2000). Team Arundo del Norte: Collaborative approach to exotic pest plant control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- DiPietro, D. and T. Dudley (2002). Influences of Arundo donax invasion on riparian biodiversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- DiTomaso, J. (1996). Biology and ecology of giant reed. Arundo and saltcedar: the deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.
- Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Else, J. A. (1996). Post flood establishment of native woody species and Arundo donax. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Fitch, M. T. and D. Bieber (2004). The riparian weed management program at Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton: Past, present, and future. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Frandsen, P. (1998). The political side of exotic pest plants. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Frandsen, P. and N. E. Jackson (1998). Santa Ana River Interagency Habitat Recovery Project, Van Buren Bridge Project Area summary. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Gaffney, K. (2003). A watershed approach to Arundo donax removal and riparian restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Gaffney, K. and R. Hunter (2005). Incorporating applied research into an ongoing watershed-based, programmatic approach to Arundo donax removal. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Giessow, J. (2000). Mapping distribution and acreage of an exotic plant using orthorectified imagery & field mapping to produce GIS coverages. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Giessow, J. (2001). Watershed based eradication of Arundo donax (giant reed): from pulling together to mapping to treating to re-planting. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, San Diego, California.
- Giessow, J. and J. Giessow (2001). Planning Arundo donax removal: A review of methods for control and biomass removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Giessow, J., J. Giessow, et al. (2000). Non-native plant control on the watershed level: Role of the Santa Margarita and San Luis Rey Watersheds Weed Management Area. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Giessow, J. and M. Newhouse (2004). Riparian working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Heckert, K. (2004). A watershed approach to giant reed removal: An economic and environmental win:win for the Russian River. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Holt, J. S. and A. B. Boose (1999). Asexual reproduction in Arundo donax (giant reed). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Holt, J. S. and A. S. Boose (1998). Environmental effects on asexual reproduction in Arundo donax, giant reed. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Huber, A.-M. (2006). The proliferation of Arundo donax in Arroyo Las Posas. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Jackson, N. E. (1998). Chemical control of giant reed (Arundo donax) and saltcedar (Tamarix ramosissima). Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Jones, P. A. (1997). Formation of "Team Arundo del Norte" in northern and central California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Kirk, A. A., T. Widmer, et al. (2003). The potential contribution of natural enemies from Mediterranean Europe to the management of the invasive weed Arundo donax (Graminae; Arundinae) in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Kirk, A. A., T. Widmer, et al. (2002). Focusing foreign exploration for biocontrol agents of Arundo donax using CLIMEX, distribution records, genetics and laboratory rearing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Lambert, A. and T. Dudley (2006). Potential for augmentation biological control of Arundo donax. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Lawson, D. M. and H. Smead (2001). Evaluation of chipped Arundo biomass as mulch. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Lawson, D. M., V. Vartanian, et al. (1996). Teamwork kills arundo in cost-effective manner. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Lovich, R. E., E. L. Ervin, et al. (2001). Terrestrial fauna community composition of Arundo donax (Poaceae) root Masses. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Mitchell, J., J. Giessow, et al. (2001). Role of the Santa Margarita and San Luis Rey Watersheds Weed Management Area in watershed based exotic plant control and restoration in northern San Diego County. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Motamed, E. R. and A. H. B. M. Witje (1998). Rooting by stem fragments from hanging and upright stems of giant reed (Arundo donax). Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Neill, B. and J. Giessow (2001). Distributions of Arundo donax in coastal watersheds of southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Newhouse, M. (2000). Arundo donax eradication and coordination project: Coordinating eradication projects in the Bay-Delta region. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Newhouse, M. (2003). Arundo eradication and coordination program. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Newhouse, M., D. Spencer, et al. (2006). Team Arundo del Norte's arundo eradication and coordination program, a regional approach: Uniting weed management and research through interlinking adaptive management feedback loops. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Peck, G. G. (1998). Hydroponic growth characteristics of Arundo donax L. under salt stress. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Quinn, L. and J. Holt (2003). Invasibility of experimental riparian communities by Arundo donax. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Quinn, L. and J. S. Holt (2004). Effects of environment on establishment of Arundo donax in three southern California riparian areas. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Rauterkus, M. and J. Holt (2003). Seasonal activity and impacts of Arundo donax. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Rose, P. (2002). Regulatory compliance at the county level. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Rose, P. and N. Cabanting (2004). Effects of arundo removal methods on revegetation: A conservation field trial. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Schoenig, S., D. DiPietro, et al. (2004). Mapping working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Sher, A. A., D. F. Spencer, et al. (2002). Arundo donax physiology, shoot, and root growth under two nutrient regimes. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Simonsen-Marchant, J., J. Boland, et al. (2006). Assessment of treatment effectiveness and relative cost of giant reed (Arundo donax) removal in the Tijuana River Valley. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Spencer, D. F. and G. G. Ksander (2000). Influence of environmental conditions on shoot emergence from Arundo donax rhizomes. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Spencer, D. F. and G. G. Ksander (2002). Predicting Arundo donax shoot emergence using degree-day based equations. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Stein, E. D. (1998). Invasive weed control as mitigation: A shifting paradigm. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Thomsen, C. D. (2000). Bear Creek watershed restoration program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Tracy, J. L. and C. J. DeLoach (1998). Biological controls of saltcedar in the United States: Progress and projected ecological effects. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Tracy, J. L. and C. J. DeLoach (1998). Suitability of classical biological control for giant reed (Arundo donax) in the United States. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Trumbo, J. (1999). Giant cane (Arundo donax) control & herbicide/surfactant impacts to larval frogs & fish. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Vartanian, V. (1998). Destructive nature of arundo and tamarisk. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Warner, J. (2004). Funding invasive plant projects through the farm bill. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Widmer, T. L., A. A. Kirk, et al. (2003). The European Biological Control Laboratory: Contributing to successful management of invasive species in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Witje, A. H. B. M. (1998). The role of tissue nitrogen content on Arundo donax translocation rates and rhizome growth. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Zemba, R. (1998). Habitat for threatened and endangered species: Quarantine areas of control exotic weeds? Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Arundo spp. (1)

- Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.

Asian longhorn beetle (1)

- Widmer, T. L., A. A. Kirk, et al. (2003). The European Biological Control Laboratory: Contributing to successful management of invasive species in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Asian seaweed(1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Asparagus asparagoides (2)

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Asphodelus fistulosus(2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). 2004 Cal-IPC Red Alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

athel pine (1)

Barnes, P., E. Powell, et al. (2001). Tamarix aphylla: An invasive threat in the desert southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

athel tree (1)

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Atlantic cordgrass (2)

Nordby, J. C., A. N. Cohen, et al. (2004). Behavioral responses of birds to invasive spartina in San Francisco Bay salt marshes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Zaremba, K., P. R. Olofson, et al. (2003). Challenges of restoring native habitat in a Spartina alterniflora hybrid invaded ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Atriplex argentea (1)

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Atriplex canescens (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Atriplex muelleri (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Atriplex polycarpa (1)

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Atriplex spp. (1)

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Avena (1)

Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Avena barbata (7)

Corbin, J. D., M. Thomsen, et al. (2004). Out of the frying pan: Invasion of exotic perennial grasses in coastal prairies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Maher, E. and E. Stanton (2005). Blurring edges: A test of weed control methods used along edges of sage scrub patches to encourage shrub colonization into abandoned agricultural fields. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Minnich, R. A. (1994). Effects of exotic plants on three California ecosystems. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 5-6.

Minnich, R. A. (2004). California's fading wildflower legacy. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Wills, R. (1993). The effects of fire on introduced annual grasses. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 10.

Avena fatua (4)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frtger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Marler, M. J. and R. M. Callaway (2000). Role of mycorrhizae in Centaurea invasions. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Minnich, R. A. (1994). Effects of exotic plants on three California ecosystems. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 5-6.

Minnich, R. A. (2004). California's fading wildflower legacy. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Avena sativa (1)

Hillman, J. M. (1999). Potentially allelopathic effects of poison hemlock (Conium maculatum) on native plant revegetation at Wilder Ranch State Park. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Avena spp. (3)

Bauder, E. T. (1996). Exotics in the southern California bernal pool ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

St. John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.

Baccharis salicifolia (3)

Coffman, G. C., T. Dudley, et al. (2005). Are we creating the ideal conditions for Arundo donax invasion in California? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Quinn, L. and J. Holt (2003). Invasibility of experimental riparian communities by Arundo donax. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bachelor's button (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bagous affinis (1)

Maly, F. C. (2006). Hydrilla eradication efforts in the Chowchilla River and Eastman Reservoir in Central California: A success story. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Baltic rush (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

banana poka (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). 2004 Cal-IPC Red Alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bangasternus orientalis (1)

Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

barb goatgrass (5)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M., A. Merenlender, et al. (2000). Control of barbed goatgrass using prescribed burning. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Gelbard, J. L. and S. Harrison (2001). Interactive effects of roads, soils, and exposure on invasion of Calif. grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D. (2000). Bear Creek watershed restoration program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

barbwire Russian-thistle (1)

Ayres, D., F. Ryan, et al. (2005). Tumbleweeds of California - Who, what, where, and how? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Baris przewalskyi (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Baris soricinae(1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bassia hyssopifolia (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frtger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bay checkerspot butterfly (1)

Weiss, S. B. (2003). Nitrogen deposition impacts on a nutrient-poor grassland ecosystem: Conservation, management and restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bay owl's clover (1)

Tatum, E. R., P. Clifford, et al. (2005). Comparison of removal methods for Spartina densiflora in Humboldt Bay. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

beetle (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

bermudagrass (2)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

big periwinkle (1)

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

big sagebrush (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

biocontrol (4)

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

biodiversity (2)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

biological (3)

Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

biological control (2)

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

biology(3)

DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.

Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

bison (1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Bison bison (1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

black cottonwood (1)

Coffman, G. C., T. Dudley, et al. (2005). Are we creating the ideal conditions for Arundo donax invasion in California? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

black locust (3)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

black mustard (5)

Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Dickerson, E., C. Brigham, et al. (2004). Ecohelpers: Education and ecological restoration in Southern California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Keeley, J. E. (2004). Fire management impacts on invasive species at the wildland/urban interface in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Marushia, R. and J. Holt (2005). Phenology of Brassica tournefortii in comparison to B. nigra, B. geniculata, and native Mojave Desert annuals. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2002). Effect of competition on artichoke thistle, Cynara cardunculus. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

blackberry (1)

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

blister mite (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

BLM (1)

Knox, A. (1997). Interagency cooperation for noxious weed control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bluebunch wheatgrass (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Goodwin, K. (2005). Montana weed prevention areas: Partnerships for rangeland protection. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bothinoderus declivis (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Brachypodium distachylon (1)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Brachypodium sylvaticum (2)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Brassica fruticulosa (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Brassica geniculata (5)

Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.

Maher, E. and E. Stanton (2005). Blurring edges: A test of weed control methods used along edges of sage scrub patches to encourage shrub colonization into abandoned agricultural fields. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Marushia, R. and J. Holt (2005). Phenology of Brassica tournefortii in comparison to B. nigra, B. geniculata, and native Mojave Desert annuals. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Minnich, R. A. (1994). Effects of exotic plants on three California ecosystems. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 5-6.

Minnich, R. A. (2004). California's fading wildflower legacy. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Brassica nigra (7)

Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Dickerson, E., C. Brigham, et al. (2004). Ecohelpers: Education and ecological restoration in Southern California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Keeley, J. E. (2004). Fire management impacts on invasive species at the wildland/urban interface in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Marushia, R. and J. Holt (2005). Phenology of Brassica tournefortii in comparison to B. nigra, B. geniculata, and native Mojave Desert annuals. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Minnich, R. A. (1994). Effects of exotic plants on three California ecosystems. California Exotic Pest Plant

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 5-6.
St. John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.
White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2002). Effect of competition on artichoke thistle, Cynara cardunculus. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Brassica spp. (2)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Brassica tournefortii (7)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frtger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Marushia, R. and J. Holt (2005). Phenology of Brassica tournefortii in comparison to B. nigra, B. geniculata, and native Mojave Desert annuals. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Minnich, R. A. (1994). Effects of exotic plants on three California ecosystems. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 5-6.
Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.
Minnich, R. A. (2004). California's fading wildflower legacy. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Northam, F. E. (2001). Invasive plant species management in Arizona. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Brazilian peppertree (2)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Kelly, M. (2001). Drilling as a technique for controlling eucalyptus, palms & other exotic trees. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Brazilian waterweed (2)

Crosson, H. A. (2004). Water gardening: Pathway to paradise or plant invasion? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Ruch, S., K. Shanayda, et al. (2006). Utilizing differential quantitative mapping technologies and traditional botanical knowledge to assist Brazilian waterweed management in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta: An example from Frank's Tract. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

bridal broom (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

bridal creeper (1)

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Briza maxima (1)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

brome fescue (1)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bromus (4)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Maher, E. and E. Stanton (2005). Blurring edges: A test of weed control methods used along edges of sage scrub patches to encourage shrub colonization into abandoned agricultural fields. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2001). Emergence and development of Cynara cardunculus: Developing seedling removal strategies for an invasive weed. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.

Bromus diandrus (16)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Corbin, J. D., M. Thomsen, et al. (2004). Out of the frying pan: Invasion of exotic perennial grasses in coastal prairies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. (2003). Fire: Prescribed burning as a management tool. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hastings, M. S. and J. M. DiTomaso (1996). Fire controls yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) in California grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hillman, J. M. (1999). Potentially allelopathic effects of poison hemlock (Conium maculatum) on native plant revegetation at Wilder Ranch State Park. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hulvey, K. and E. Zavaleta (2006). The effect of native forb abundance on invasion resistance in California grasslands. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Minnich, R. A. (1994). Effects of exotic plants on three California ecosystems. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 5-6.

Minnich, R. A. (2004). California's fading wildflower legacy. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Uschyk, K. L. and P. Slattery (2000). The use of native yellow lupines for controlling ripgut brome and radish. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Council.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2002). Effect of competition on artichoke thistle, Cynara cardunculus. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Wills, R. (1993). The effects of fire on introduced annual grasses. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93.

Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 10.

Bromus hordeaceus (1)

Corbin, J. D., M. Thomsen, et al. (2004). Out of the frying pan: Invasion of exotic perennial grasses in coastal prairies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bromus hordeaceus (3)

Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.

Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hastings, M. S. and J. M. DiTomaso (1996). Fire controls yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) in California grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bromus madritensis (7)

Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.

Brooks, M. L. and T. C. Esque (1999). Alien grasses in the Mojave and Sonoran deserts. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Esque, T. (2001). How will a hotter, drier, and more variable climate affect invasives in the Mojave Desert? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

III, J. A. A. (2003). Atmospheric CO₂ influences on recovery potential. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, S. D. (2001). Effects of increased CO₂ and nitrogen deposition on desert invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bromus madritensis ssp. rubens (2)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Minnich, R. A. (2004). California's fading wildflower legacy. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bromus madritensis ssp. rubens (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bromus mollis (2)

Minnich, R. A. (1994). Effects of exotic plants on three California ecosystems. California Exotic Pest Plant

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 5-6.
Wills, R. (1993). The effects of fire on introduced annual grasses. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 10.

Bromus rubens (4)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.
Minnich, R. A. (1994). Effects of exotic plants on three California ecosystems. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 5-6.
Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.
Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Bromus spp. (2)

Bauder, E. T. (1996). Exotics in the southern California bernal pool ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bromus sterilis (1)

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Bromus tectorum (15)

Allcock, K. (2003). Integrating weed control and restoration on western rangelands. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Belnap, J. (2000). Soil consequences of Bromus tectorum invasion. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Brooks, M. L. and T. C. Esque (1999). Alien grasses in the Mojave and Sonoran deserts. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
DiTomaso, J. (2003). Fire: Prescribed burning as a management tool. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Gerlach, J. D. (1997). How the west was lost: Reconstructing the invasion dynamics of yellow star-thistle and other plant invaders of western rangelands and natural areas. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97.
Hogan, M. (2003). Native grass seeding, nutrient and mulch effects on weedy species. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
III, J. A. A. (2003). Atmospheric CO₂ influences on recovery potential. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Keeley, J. E. (2004). Fire management impacts on invasive species at the wildland/urban interface in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Knick, S. T. (2000). Ecological effects of exotic-altered fire regimes. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Minnich, R. A. (1994). Effects of exotic plants on three California ecosystems. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 5-6.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.

Bromus trinii (2)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Brooks, M. L. and T. C. Esque (1999). Alien grasses in the Mojave and Sonoran deserts. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

broom (6)

Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.

Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.

DiTomaso, J. (2003). Fire: Prescribed burning as a management tool. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Kelly, M. (2001). 10 years of CalEPPC. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Moore, K., G. Hayes, et al. (1995). Volunteers and long-term community support for effective pest plant control. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.

buckwheat (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

bud weevil (1)

Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

buffleggrass (3)

Antonio, C. D. and J. Gerlach (2003). Annual grasses: Status of biology and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Northam, F. E. (2001). Invasive plant species management in Arizona. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

West, P. (2001). Invasive species in northern Mexico. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

bulbous buttercup (1)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Invasive Plant Council.

bull thistle (9)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Gluesenkamp, D. A. (2000). Factors controlling the relative abundance of two thistle species: Evaluating non-exclusive hypotheses for success of an introduced invader. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pitcairn, M. (1993). Introduction and distribution of biological control agents against exotic weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 9.

bulrush (1)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

bunchgrass (1)

Delgado, B. (2003). BLM's integrated weed management program at Ford Ord, Monterey, California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

burdock (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

burning (7)

Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.

Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.

bush lupine (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cabomba caroliniana (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

caddisfly (1)

DiPietro, D. and T. Dudley (2002). Influences of Arundo donax invasion on riparian biodiversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cal-IPC(1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2006). Invasive weeds from the nursery. 58: 83-85.

CALFED (1)

Benefield, C. B. (1999). Private and public funding opportunities: Sources of funding for weed management programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

California (27)

Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.

Deuser, C. (1998). Exotic plant control to preserve and restore riparian areas in numerous national park units. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 67-68.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.
- DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.
- DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.
- Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.
- Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.
- Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.
- Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.
- Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.
- Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.
- Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.
- Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.
- Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.
- Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.
- St. John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.
- Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.
- Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.
- Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.
- Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

California black walnut (2)

- Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Lair, K. and M. Ryan (2003). Revegetation: When and how. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

California Conservation Corps (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Vittori, L. (1997). Working effectively with paid crews. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. California Exotic Pest Plant Council, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

California Department of Fish and Game (1)

Trumbo, J. (1998). Licenses, certification and permits for herbicide applications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

California pepper tree (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

California poppy (1)

Leger, E. A. (2003). Rapid evolution of invasive California poppies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

California sycamore (1)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

California tiger salamander (1)

DiTomaso, J. M., J. Torrence, et al. (2001). Clopyralid drift following aerial application at Fort Hunter Liggett. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Caluerpa (1)

Anderson, L., K. Zaremba, et al. (2004). Aquatic working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

CalWeed (1)

Schoenig, S. and B. Hoffman (1998). The CalWeed database. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Calystegia macrostegia (1)

Keeley, J. E. (2004). Fire management impacts on invasive species at the wildland/urban interface in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Camomilla suaveolens(1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Canada thistle (5)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Clines, J. (2005). Preventing weed spread via contaminated hay and straw. California Invasive Plant Council

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, R. L., V. F. Carrithers, et al. (2006). Managing rangeland invasive plants with Aminopyralid (MilestoneTM). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Canary Island date palms (1)

Kelly, M. (2001). Drilling as a technique for controlling eucalyptus, palms & other exotic trees. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Canary Island hypericum (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Canary Island St. John's wort (2)

Dlugosch, K. (2002). Recently-introduced shrub Hypericum canariense (Canary Island St. Johnswort). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cannabis sativa (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cape ivy (14)

Balciunas, J. (2004). Biological control of Cape ivy: Coming soon? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Baxter, T. and J. Bromberg (2005). Cape ivy removal at Golden Gate National Recreation Area and Point Reyes National Seashore. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Blumin, L. and D. Gluesenkamp (2002). Manual removal of cape ivy in volunteer canyon – Bolinas Lagoon Preserve, Audubon Canyon Ranch, Stinson Beach, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Bossard, C., K. Moore, et al. (2005). A test of repeat flaming as a control for poison hemlock (Conium maculatum), Cape ivy (Delairia odorata), and periwinkle (Vinca major). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Giessow, J. and M. Newhouser (2004). Riparian working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Grobbelaar, E., J. Balciunas, et al. (2000). A survey in South Africa for insects with potential as biological control agents for cape ivy (Delairea Odorata Lemaire). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hamingson, E. E. and M. E. Alvarez (2000). Assessing cape-ivy control in two California National Parks.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Kelly, M. (2006). Fifteen years later: What were we looking for and what did we get? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Robison, R. (2004). Reproductive biology of cape ivy (Delairea odorata) in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

cape weed (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Capra hircus (1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cardaria (2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Gerlach, J. D. (1997). How the west was lost: Reconstructing the invasion dynamics of yellow star-thistle and other plant invaders of western rangelands and natural areas. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97.

Cardaria chalepensis (1)

Clines, J. (2005). Preventing weed spread via contaminated hay and straw. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cardaria draba (2)

Clines, J. (2005). Preventing weed spread via contaminated hay and straw. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

Carduus acanthoides (4)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Carduus nutans (11)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: Biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.
- Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Smith, R. L., V. F. Carrithers, et al. (2006). Managing rangeland invasive plants with Aminopyralid (Milestone™). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carduus pycnocephalus (8)

- Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
- Boyd, D. (1997). Eucalyptus removal on Angel Island. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Briscoe, E. and T. Anderson (2000). War on weeds - invasive weed education and outreach program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Guerriero, A. (2002). Monitoring Carduus pycnocephalus (Italian thistle) on grasslands in coastal central California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: Biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

Carduus pycnocephalus L. (1)

- Stanton, E. and E. Maher (2006). Determining the best management technique for Italian thistle. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carex barbarae (1)

- Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

carnation spurge (1)

Dickerson, E., C. Brigham, et al. (2004). Ecohelpers: Education and ecological restoration in Southern California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carpobrotus (1)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carpobrotus chilensis (1)

DiTomaso, J., A. Stanton, et al. (2005). Invasive Plant Inventory (“weed list”) working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carpobrotus edulis (5)

Boyd, D. (1997). Eucalyptus removal on Angel Island. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Briscoe, E. and T. Anderson (2000). War on weeds - invasive weed education and outreach program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Drennan, P. M. and L. Zakrzewski (2004). The effect of soil salinity and flooding on the growth Carpobrotus edulis (L.) N.B. Br.: Implications for its spread into the Ballona Wetlands. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carpobrotus spp. (1)

Farrell, S. (1997). Stewardship and resource education at the Presidio. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Carthamus lanatus (2)

Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). 2004 Cal-IPC Red Alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carthamus leucocaulus (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Carya illinoensis (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Cassia artemisioides (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Castilleja ambigua ssp. humboldtiensis (1)

Tatum, E. R., P. Clifford, et al. (2005). Comparison of removal methods for Spartina densiflora in Humboldt Bay. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

castor bean (2)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Dickerson, E., C. Brigham, et al. (2004). Ecohelpers: Education and ecological restoration in Southern California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Catalina Island mountain-mahogany (1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Catalpa (1)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Catalpa bignonioides (4)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

caterpillar (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

cattails (1)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

cattle (1)

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

cattle saltbush (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Caulerpa taxifolia (5)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Board, S. C. C. A. T. C. R. W. Q. C. (2001). The invasive marine alga, Caulerpa taxifolia in southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Woodfield, R. (2001). Killer algae, the rapid response to Caulerpa taxifolia, a case study in a multi-agency project. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

CDFA (2)

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

Schoenig, S. (1999). Weed management areas in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ceanothus lemmonii (1)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

cedar (2)

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Celtis (1)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cenchrus ciliaris (1)

Antonio, C. D. and J. Gerlach (2003). Annual grasses: Status of biology and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Centaurea (6)

Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.

Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.

Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

Centaurea biebersteinii (1)

Goodwin, K. (2005). Montana weed prevention areas: Partnerships for rangeland protection. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Centaurea calcitrapa (6)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Gluesenkamp, D. (2003). Marin-Sonoma Weed Management Area: Putting the 'we' in weed management. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Young, J. A. and C. D. Clements (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

Centaurea cyanus (2)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Centaurea debeauxii (2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Centaurea diffusa (11)

Brucker, P. (2002). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Brucker, P. (2003). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program for 2003. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Paris, R. B. and S. Erwin (2003). Diffuse Knapweed (Centaurea diffusa) vontrol on South Fork Mountain, Trinity County, California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pitcairn, M. (1993). Introduction and distribution of biological control agents against exotic weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 9.
- Smith, R. L., V. F. Carrithers, et al. (2006). Managing rangeland invasive plants with Aminopyralid (MilestoneTM). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Westbrooks, R. G. (1995). Federal regulatory efforts to minimize the introduction and impacts of exotic pest plants in the United States. CalEPPC Symposium '95. Asilomar, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 3: 6.
- Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

Centaurea iberica (2)

- O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Centaurea jacea (1)

- Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Centaurea maculosa (22)

- Brucker, P. (2002). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Brucker, P. (2003). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program for 2003. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Council, S. R. R. (2002). Determining the effectiveness of eradicating Centaurea maculosa from the Salmon River wildland ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Gerlach, J. D. (1997). How the west was lost: Reconstructing the invasion dynamics of yellow star-thistle and other plant invaders of western rangelands and natural areas. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97.
- Goodwin, K. (2005). Montana weed prevention areas: Partnerships for rangeland protection. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Kelly, M. (1998). SWAT: Special weed action teams as abassadors for education and energy. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Leavitt, J. R. and C. Pirosko (2002). A brief overview of the California Dept. of Food and Agriculture's A-rated noxious weed education and eradication program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Marler, M. J. and R. M. Callaway (2000). Role of mycorrhizae in Centaurea invasions. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Melbourne, B., A. Hollander, et al. (2004). Integrating ecological, social, and economic perspectives on the spread of invasive species. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Norgaard, K. M. (2003). Community responses to spotted knapweed: A sociological view. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Pitcairn, M. (1993). Introduction and distribution of biological control agents against exotic weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 9.
- Smith, R. L., V. F. Carrithers, et al. (2006). Managing rangeland invasive plants with Aminopyralid (Milestone™). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Westbrooks, R. G. (1995). Federal regulatory efforts to minimize the introduction and impacts of exotic pest plants in the United States. CalEPPC Symposium '95. Asilomar, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 3: 6.
- Young, J. A. and C. D. Clements (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

Centaurea melitensis (5)

- Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
- Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Marler, M. J. and R. M. Callaway (2000). Role of mycorrhizae in Centaurea invasions. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Northam, F. E. (2001). Invasive plant species management in Arizona. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Centaurea nigra (1)

- Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Centaurea solstitialis (54)

- Aslan, C., M. Hufford, et al. (2006). The need for increased cooperation and coordination in yellow starthistle invasion management in Sierra Nevada foothill rangelands. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Benefield, C. B. (1999). Private and public funding opportunities: Sources of funding for weed management programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Briscoe, E. and T. Anderson (2000). War on weeds - invasive weed education and outreach program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.
- Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Clines, J. (2005). Preventing weed spread via contaminated hay and straw. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- DiTomaso, J. (2003). Fire: Prescribed burning as a management tool. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.
- DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.
- DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (2001). Integrated management of yellow starthistle and medusahead using prescribed burning and clopyralid. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Eagle, A. J., M. E. Eiswerth, et al. (2006). Economic impacts of yellow starthistle on California ranchers. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Gelbard, J. L. and S. Harrison (2001). Interactive effects of roads, soils, and exposure on invasion of Calif. grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Gerlach, J. (1996). Centaurea solstitialis and the water balance research. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Gerlach, J. D. (1997). How the west was lost: Reconstructing the invasion dynamics of yellow star-thistle and other plant invaders of western rangelands and natural areas. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Hastings, M. S. and J. M. DiTomaso (1996). Fire controls yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) in California grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Heiple, P. and K. Himes (2004). Volunteer exotic removal efforts and success at Egdeewood County Park and Preserve, San Mateo County, California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Hulvey, K. and E. Zavaleta (2006). The effect of native forb abundance on invasion resistance in California grasslands. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Ill, W. L. B., D. G. Luster, et al. (2004). Status of Puccinea jacea var. solstitialis in 2004 for biological control of yellow starthistle in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Jetter, K. M. (1999). The economics of invasive species prevention. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Jones, T. and J. DiTomaso (2002). Yellow starthistle control using native grassland restoration. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Keeley, J. E. (2004). Fire management impacts on invasive species at the wildland/urban interface in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Kirk, A. A., T. Widmer, et al. (2003). The potential contribution of natural enemies from Mediterranean Europe to the management of the invasive weed Arundo donax (Graminae; Arundinae) in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Lortie, C. J., J. Hierro, et al. (2004). Seed and seedbank dynamics of the highly invasive weed yellow starthistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Martin, E. L. and I. D. Martin (1999). Prescribing burning and competitive reseeding as tools for reducing yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) at Pinnacles National Monument. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pitcairn, M. (1993). Introduction and distribution of biological control agents against exotic weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 9.
- Pitcairn, M. (1996). Yellow starthistle control methods: Biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Romanowitz, H. (2000). Using volunteers in regional mapping programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.
- Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.
- Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Smith, R. L., V. F. Carrithers, et al. (2006). Managing rangeland invasive plants with Aminopyralid (Milestone™). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Spencer, D. F., S. F. Enloe, et al. (2004). Impacts of mowing and bud destruction on yellow starthistle root dynamics and flowering. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Spencer, D. F., M. J. Pitcairn, et al. (2005). Effect of fertilizer additions on yellow starthistle insect biological control agents. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Sperber, T. and F. T. Griggs (2005). Suppressing exotic weeds on restoration projects using an aggressive herbaceous understory. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Invasive Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D. (2000). Bear Creek watershed restoration program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Torrence, J., J. M. DiTomaso, et al. (2002). Long-term, large-scale, integrated management of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) at Fort Hunter Liggett, Monterey County, California: Lower cost follow-up maintenance is vital for successful control program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Torrence, J. R., J. M. DiTomaso, et al. (2001). Large-scale integrated management of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) at Fort Hunter Liggett, Monterey County, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Warner, J. (2004). Funding invasive plant projects through the farm bill. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Widmer, T. L., A. A. Kirk, et al. (2003). The European Biological Control Laboratory: Contributing to successful management of invasive species in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Yacoub, R. (2000). Cooperative yellow starthistle leading edge mapping project. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Young, J. A. and C. D. Clements (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

Centaurea solstitialis* L. (2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (1996). Yellow starthistle: Biology and life history. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1996). Yellow starthistle: Chemical control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Centaurea* spp. (2)

Bauder, E. T. (1996). Exotics in the southern California bernal pool ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Centaurea squarrosa* (4)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Young, J. A. and C. D. Clements (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

Centaurea x pratensis* (3)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cerastrum glomeratum (1)

Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ceratapion basicorne (2)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ceratitidis capitata (1)

Westbrooks, R. G. (2001). Invasive species, coming to America: New strategies for biological protection through prescreening, early warning, and rapid response. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ceratonnia siliqua (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cercocarpus traskiae (1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ceriodaphnia dubia (1)

Trumbo, J. (2005). An assessment of the hazard of a mixture of the herbicide Rodeo® and the non-ionic surfactant R-11® to aquatic invertebrates and larval amphibians. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cerodontha (1)

Kirk, A. A., T. Widmer, et al. (2003). The potential contribution of natural enemies from Mediterranean Europe to the management of the invasive weed Arundo donax (Graminae; Arundinae) in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cestrum nocturnum (2)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Chaetocnema breviuscula (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Chaetorellia succinea (3)

Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Spencer, D. F., M. J. Pitcairn, et al. (2005). Effect of fertilizer additions on yellow starthistle insect biological control agents. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Chamomilla spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

cheatgrass (10)

Allcock, K. (2003). Integrating weed control and restoration on western rangelands. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Belnap, J. (2000). Soil consequences of Bromus tectorum invasion. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. (2003). Fire: Prescribed burning as a management tool. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hogan, M. (2003). Native grass seeding, nutrient and mulch effects on weedy species. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ill, J. A. A. (2003). Atmospheric CO₂ influences on recovery potential. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Keeley, J. E. (2004). Fire management impacts on invasive species at the wildland/urban interface in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Knick, S. T. (2000). Ecological effects of exotic-altered fire regimes. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.

CHEMTREC (1)

Lemon, M. D. (1998). Accidents and herbicide spills: What should you do? California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Chenopodium album (1)

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Chenopodium murale (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

cherry plum (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Chinese fleecyvine (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Chinese leaf beetle (1)

Carruthers, R., G. Anderson, et al. (2003). The use of remote sensing to assess biological control impact on saltcedar in Nevada. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Chinese tallow tree (3)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Chinese wisteria (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Chloris truncata (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Chlorogalum purpureum (1)

Torrence, J. R., J. M. DiTomaso, et al. (2001). Large-scale integrated management of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) at Fort Hunter Liggett, Monterey County, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Chondrilla juncea (3)

Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Chondrostereum purpureum (1)

Prasad, R. and S. Naurais (1999). Invasiveness of alien plants: Some aspects of the impact of scotch broom (Cytisus scoparius (L.) link) on Douglas-fir seedlings and its control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Chorizanthe pungens var. hartwegiana (1)

McGraw, J. (2002). Management of rare native species amidst exotic plant competition: Insights from Santa Cruz County's endemic sandhills community. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Chrysanthemoides monilifera (1)

Blossey, B. (1996). The search for patterns or what determines the increased competitive ability of invasive non-indigenous plants? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Chrysanthemum coronarium (1)

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Chrysolina quadrigemina (2)

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: Biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

Chrysothamnus (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Chrysothamnus nauseosus (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

cinquefoil (1)

Parks, C. G. (2006). Identifying research priorities and implementing science-based management. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

CINWCC (3)

Benefield, C. B. (1999). Private and public funding opportunities: Sources of funding for weed management programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Schoenig, S. and B. Hoffman (1998). The CalWeed database. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Schoenig, S. E. (1997). The California noxious weed projects database: A project of the California Interagency Noxious Weed Coordinating Committee. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cirsium arvense (6)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Clines, J. (2005). Preventing weed spread via contaminated hay and straw. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, R. L., V. F. Carrithers, et al. (2006). Managing rangeland invasive plants with Aminopyralid (MilestoneTM). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cirsium brevistylum (1)

Gluesenkamp, D. A. (2000). Factors controlling the relative abundance of two thistle species: Evaluating non-exclusive hypotheses for success of an introduced invader. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cirsium ochrocentrum(1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

cirsium spp (1)

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

Cirsium undulatum (2)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cirsium vulgare (8)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Gluesenkamp, D. A. (2000). Factors controlling the relative abundance of two thistle species: Evaluating non-exclusive hypotheses for success of an introduced invader. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cistothorus palustris (1)

Nordby, J. C., A. N. Cohen, et al. (2004). Behavioral responses of birds to invasive spartina in San Francisco Bay salt marshes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Citrullus lanatus (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

clovers(1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

coastal central and southern CA. (1)

Knapp, E. E. and K. J. Rice (1997). Ecotypes of native species: How local is local in restoration plantings? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

cocklebur (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Coincya monensis (2)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Coleogyne (1)

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

Coleophora klimeschiella (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Coleophora parthenica (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Colletotrichum gloeosporioides (2)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant common cocklebur (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

common reed (2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Gedik, T. L. (2005). Phragmites australis in the Humboldt Bay region: Biology of an invasive species and opportunities for treatment. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

common velvet grass (3)

Antonio, C. D. and J. Gerlach (2003). Annual grasses: Status of biology and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Corbin, J. D., M. Thomsen, et al. (2004). Out of the frying pan: Invasion of exotic perennial grasses in coastal prairies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

competition (1)

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

complex (1)

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Conium maculatum (6)

Blumin, L. and D. Gluesenkamp (2002). Manual removal of cape ivy in volunteer canyon – Bolinas Lagoon Preserve, Audubon Canyon Ranch, Stinson Beach, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bossard, C., K. Moore, et al. (2005). A test of repeat flaming as a control for poison hemlock (Conium maculatum), Cape ivy (Delairia odorata), and periwinkle (Vinca major). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hillman, J. M. (1997). Potentially allelopathic effects of poison hemlock (Conium maculatum) on native plant revegetation at Wilder Ranch State Park. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hillman, J. M. (1999). Potentially allelopathic effects of poison hemlock (Conium maculatum) on native plant revegetation at Wilder Ranch State Park. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento,

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

control (20)

- Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.
- Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
- Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.
- Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.
- Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.
- Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.
- Deuser, C. (1998). Exotic plant control to preserve and restore riparian areas in numerous national park units. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 67-68.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.
- DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.
- DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.
- Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.
- Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.
- Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.
- Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.
- Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.
- Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.
- St. John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.
- Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.
- Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.
- Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Cooperative Extension (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

cordgrass (3)

DiGirolamo, L. (2006). Invasive species removal in an urban environment: Pitfalls and lessons learned. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, D., S. Klohr, et al. (2002). Introduced Spartina in San Francisco Bay: 2000-2001 Survey and Findings, San Francisco Estuary Invasive Spartina Project. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cordylanthus maritimus ssp. palustris (1)

Tatum, E. R., P. Clifford, et al. (2005). Comparison of removal methods for Spartina densiflora in Humboldt Bay. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Coriandrum sativum (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frlger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

cornflower (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cornus spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Coronilla valentina (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Coronopus didymus (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frlger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cortaderia (1)

Moore, K. (2000). Hand control of Cortaderia in remote mountain sites. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cortaderia jubata (14)

Briscoe, E. and T. Anderson (2000). War on weeds - invasive weed education and outreach program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Exotic Pest Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Drewitz, J. J. and J. M. DiTomaso (2000). Seed biology and control of jubatagrass. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Kelly, M. (2001). 10 years of CalEPPC. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lambrinos, J. G. (2002). The creeping loss of California's once Widespread shrublands to pampasgrass and other aliens. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lambrinos, J. G. (2004). A tale of two invaders: The dynamic history of pampas grass and jubata grass in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Okada, M., R. Ahmad, et al. (2004). Identifying origins and tracing spread of pampasgrass and jubatagrass in California by microsatellite markers. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Okada, M., M. Lyle, et al. (2006). Molecular evidence supporting the horticultural origin of invasive jubata grass (Cortaderia jubata). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Powers, J. (2005). Large scale pampas grass control program. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tschohl, A. (2000). Jubatagrass vs pampasgrass: A growth analysis and comparison of invasive potential. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cortaderia selloana (15)

Chirman, D. (2000). Pampasgrass control in Goleta Slough, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Kelly, M. (2001). 10 years of CalEPPC. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lambrinos, J. G. (2002). The creeping loss of California's once Widespread shrublands to pampasgrass and other aliens. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lambrinos, J. G. (2004). A tale of two invaders: The dynamic history of pampas grass and jubata grass in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Marchant, T., R. Hobbs, et al. (2006). Restoration of desert wetlands dominated by tamarisk and pampas grass. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Martus, C., C. Schneider, et al. (2003). Volunteer efforts to educate and influence corporate America and local governments to stop selling and using pampasgrass (Cortaderia selloana) and other invasive non-native plants. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Okada, M., R. Ahmad, et al. (2004). Identifying origins and tracing spread of pampasgrass and jubatagrass in California by microsatellite markers. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Okada, M., R. Ahmad, et al. (2005). Identification of cultivated pampas grass (Cortaderia selloana) escaping ornamental plantings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Okada, M., M. Lyle, et al. (2006). Molecular evidence supporting the horticultural origin of invasive jubata grass (Cortaderia jubata). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: Biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Powers, J. (2005). Large scale pampas grass control program. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tschohl, A. (2000). Jubatagrass vs pampasgrass: A growth analysis and comparison of invasive potential. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

cotoneaster (2)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cotoneaster franchettii (1)

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cotoneaster lacteus (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cotoneaster pannosa (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

cottonwood (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cotula coronopifolia (1)

Bauder, E. T. (1996). Exotics in the southern California bernal pool ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

crayfish (1)

Kennedy, T. (2001). The impacts of a riparian invader, salt cedar (Tamarix ramosissima), on a stream food web. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

creeping water primrose (2)

Verdone, L. (2003). Creeping water primrose (Ludwigia hexapetala) in the Laguna de Santa Rosa. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Verdone, L. (2004). Creeping water primrose (Ludwigia hexapetala): The ecology and impacts of an invasive aquatic plant in the Laguna de Santa Rosa. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

creeping wild rye (1)

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

creeping wildrye (1)

Etra, J. (2006). Tall whitetop control on the 102 Ranch and implications for other applications. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

creeping yellow cress (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

creosote (1)

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

creosote bush (1)

Brooks, M. (2001). Introduction and overview of invasive species in the southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

crested wheatgrass (1)

Goodwin, K. (2005). Montana weed prevention areas: Partnerships for rangeland protection. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

crimson fountaingrass(1)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Crupina (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Crupina vulgaris (3)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cryptostegia grandiflora (2)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Humphries, S. E. (1996). Australian national weeds strategy: What are the lessons? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

crystalline iceplant (1)

West, P. (2001). Invasive species in northern Mexico. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

CSREES (1)

Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cucumis melo var. dudaim (2)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

curly dock (2)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Curlyleaf pondweed (1)

Anderson, L., K. Zaremba, et al. (2004). Aquatic working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cuscuta reflexa (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

cut-leaf fireweed (1)

Briscoe, E. and T. Anderson (2000). War on weeds - invasive weed education and outreach program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cutandia memphitica (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

cutting (1)

Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.

Cyhysoanthemoides ssp. (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Humphries, S. E. (1996). Australian national weeds strategy: What are the lessons? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cynanchum louiseae (2)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cynara cardunculus (13)

Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Holt, J. S. (2006). Ecological approaches for weed management. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Kelly, M. (1998). SWAT: Special weed action teams as ambassadors for education and energy. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Kelly, M. and A. Pepper (1996). Controlling Cynara cardunculus (artichoke thistle, cardoon, etc.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Marushia, R. and J. S. Holt (2003). Patterns of seedling establishment in artichoke thistle, Cynara cardunculus. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tidwell, B. (1994). An artichoke thistle success story. CalEPPC Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 8.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2001). Emergence and development of Cynara cardunculus: Developing seedling removal strategies for an invasive weed. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2001). Invasion into four plant communities by artichoke thistle, Cynara cardunculus. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2002). Effect of competition on artichoke thistle, Cynara cardunculus. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2003). Prediction of Cynara cardunculus seedling development using a degree-day approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

White, V. A., J. S. Holt, et al. (1999). Development and management of artichoke thistle, Cynara cardunculus. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cynara scolymus L. (1)

Kelly, M. and A. Pepper (1996). Controlling Cynara cardunculus (artichoke thistle, cardoon, etc.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cynodon dactylon (4)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frtger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura,

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests: How some exotic plants reached the American southwest.

California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cynoglossum officinale (3)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cyperaceae (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). Using a computer-based diagnostics program for the identification of weedy grasses. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cyperus involucratus (1)

Bauder, E. T. (1996). Exotics in the southern California bernal pool ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cyperus papyrus (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cypress (1)

Lair, K. and M. Ryan (2003). Revegetation: When and how. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cyprinodon nevadensis mionectes (1)

Kennedy, T. (2001). The impacts of a riparian invader, salt cedar (Tamarix ramosissima), on a stream food web. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cytissus scoparius (1)

Prasad, R. and S. Naurais (1999). Invasiveness of alien plants: Some aspects of the impact of scotch broom (Cytissus scoparius (L.) link) on Douglas-fir seedlings and its control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Cytissus scoparius (8)

Alexander, J. M. F. and C. M. D'Antonio (2000). Factors affecting successful control of French and Scotch broom and restoration of native communities in coastal California grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Corbin, J. D. and C. M. D'Antonio (2003). Too much of a good thing: Restoration of native biodiversity following soil nitrogen enrichment. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Oneto, S., J. M. DiTomaso, et al. (2005). Control of Scotch broom (Cytisus scoparius). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.

Cytisus spp. (2)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

Cytisus striatus (1)

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cytisus x spachianus (1)

Newhouser, M., K. Symonds, et al. (2005). Horticulture/landscaping alternatives working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Dactylis glomerata (2)

Corbin, J. D., M. Thomsen, et al. (2004). Out of the frying pan: Invasion of exotic perennial grasses in coastal prairies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Dactyloctenium aegyptium (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frtger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

dalmatian toadflax (2)

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

dandelion (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Delairea (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Delairea odorata (19)

- Alvarez, M. E. (1997). Management of cape-ivy (Delairea odorata) in the Golden Gate National Recreation Area. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
- Balciunas, J. (2004). Biological control of Cape ivy: Coming soon? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Baxter, T. and J. Bromberg (2005). Cape ivy removal at Golden Gate National Recreation Area and Point Reyes National Seashore. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Benefield, C. B. (1999). Private and public funding opportunities: Sources of funding for weed management programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Blumin, L. and D. Gluesenkamp (2002). Manual removal of cape ivy in volunteer canyon – Bolinas Lagoon Preserve, Audubon Canyon Ranch, Stinson Beach, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.
- Bossard, C., K. Moore, et al. (2005). A test of repeat flaming as a control for poison hemlock (Conium maculatum), Cape ivy (Delairia odorata), and periwinkle (Vinca major). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Farrell, S. (1997). Stewardship and resource education at the Presidio. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Giessow, J. and M. Newhowser (2004). Riparian working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Grobbelaar, E., J. Balciunas, et al. (2000). A survey in South Africa for insects with potential as biological control agents for cape ivy (Delairea Odorata Lemaire). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Hamingson, E. E. and M. E. Alvarez (2000). Assessing cape-ivy control in two California National Parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Robison, R. (2004). Reproductive biology of cape ivy (Delairea odorata) in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Robison, R., E. Grotkopp, et al. (1999). Cape Ivy (Delairea odorata) distribution in California and Oregon. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Delairea spp. (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

delta (1)

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

dense-flowered cordgrass (2)

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tatum, E. R., P. Clifford, et al. (2005). Comparison of removal methods for Spartina densiflora in Humboldt Bay. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

desert (3)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

Desertovelum stackelbergi (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

diamond-backed moth (1)

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Dichondra repens (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

diffuse knapweed (8)

Brucker, P. (2002). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Brucker, P. (2003). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program for 2003. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Paris, R. B. and S. Erwin (2003). Diffuse Knapweed (Centaurea diffusa) vontrol on South Fork Mountain, Trinity County, California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pitcairn, M. (1993). Introduction and distribution of biological control agents against exotic weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 9.

Smith, R. L., V. F. Carrithers, et al. (2006). Managing rangeland invasive plants with Aminopyralid (MilestoneTM). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Diorhabda beetle (1)

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Diorhabda elongata (1)

Carruthers, R., G. Anderson, et al. (2003). The use of remote sensing to assess biological control impact on saltcedar in Nevada. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Dipsacus spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Dischanthium annulatum (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

distaff (1)

Gluesenkamp, D. (2003). Marin-Sonoma Weed Management Area: Putting the 'we' in weed management. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Distichlis (1)

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Distichlis spicata (2)

Drennan, P. M. and L. Zakrzewski (2004). The effect of soil salinity and flooding on the growth Carpobrotus edulis (L.) N.B. Br.: Implications for its spread into the Ballona Wetlands. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Zaremba, K., P. R. Olofson, et al. (2003). Challenges of restoring native habitat in a Spartina alterniflora hybrid invaded ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Distichlis stricta (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

disturbance (2)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Dyer, A. (1999). How landscape changes occurred in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Dittrichia graveolens (2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). 2004 Cal-IPC Red Alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

diversity (2)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.

Dodonaea viscosa (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

dogwood (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Dolichos lignosus (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Douglas fir (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

downy brome (1)

Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.

Dudleya nesiotica (1)

Klinger, R. (2002). Habitat alteration and the decline of a rare endemic plant on Santa Cruz Island, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Dyer's woad (1)

Clines, J. (2005). Preventing weed spread via contaminated hay and straw. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

dynamic (1)

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.

dynamics (1)

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.

Eastern black walnut (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Echinochloa colonum (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frtger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

ecology (6)

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

ecosystem (1)

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

edible fig (6)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Egeria densa (3)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Crosson, H. A. (2004). Water gardening: Pathway to paradise or plant invasion? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ruch, S., K. Shanayda, et al. (2006). Utilizing differential quantitative mapping technologies and traditional botanical knowledge to assist Brazilian waterweed management in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta: An example from Frank's Tract. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ehrharta calycina (1)

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ehrharta erecta (3)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Gluesenkamp, D. (2003). Marin-Sonoma Weed Management Area: Putting the 'we' in weed management. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Ehrharta longiflora (2)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Eichhornia crassipes (6)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Benfield, C. B. (1999). Private and public funding opportunities: Sources of funding for weed management programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Blair M.D., C. E. (2006). Invasive aquatic weeds: Implications for mosquito and vector management activities. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Crosson, H. A. (2004). Water gardening: Pathway to paradise or plant invasion? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Eichornia crassipes (2)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Jackson, N. E. (1996). Control of exotic weeds with Roundup herbicide: A survey of projects around the world. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: Biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Einochloa crusgallii (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Elaeagnus angustifolia (3)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests: How some exotic plants reached the American southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Elaeagnus angustifolius (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

elderberry (2)

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Zaremba, K. and M. Heath (2004). Critical habitats working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Eleagnus augustifolia (1)

Westbrooks, R. G. (2001). Invasive species, coming to America: New strategies for biological protection through prescreening, early warning, and rapid response. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Eleocharis macrostachya (1)

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Eleusine indica (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Elgaria multicarinata (1)

Gibson, J. K. (2000). The presence of fennel affects the distribution of lizards on Santa Cruz Island. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Elymus cinereus (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Elytrigia elongata (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Elytrigia intermedia ssp. intermedia (2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Elytrigia pontica (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Elytrigia repens (1)

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

English holly (2)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

English ivy (5)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Moore, K., G. Hayes, et al. (1995). Volunteers and long-term community support for effective pest plant control. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Williams, A. (2004). English ivy removal at Redwood National and State Parks. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

English walnut (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

enhanced (1)

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Epilobium ciliatum (1)

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

EQIP (1)

Benefield, C. B. (1999). Private and public funding opportunities: Sources of funding for weed management programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Eragrostis lehmanniana (2)

Brooks, M. L. and T. C. Esque (1999). Alien grasses in the Mojave and Sonoran deserts. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Erechites spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Erechtites glomerata (1)

Briscoe, E. and T. Anderson (2000). War on weeds - invasive weed education and outreach program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

erect veldtgrass (1)

Gluesenkamp, D. (2003). Marin-Sonoma Weed Management Area: Putting the 'we' in weed management. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Eremocarpustigerus (1)

Gerlach, J. D. (1997). How the west was lost: Reconstructing the invasion dynamics of yellow star-thistle and other plant invaders of western rangelands and natural areas. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97.

Erodium (2)

Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. (2003). Fire: Prescribed burning as a management tool. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Erodium botrys (1)

Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Erodium cicutarium (6)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.
- Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frigger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Minnich, R. A. (1994). Effects of exotic plants on three California ecosystems. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 5-6.
- Minnich, R. A. (2004). California's fading wildflower legacy. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests: How some exotic plants reached the American southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Wills, R. (1993). The effects of fire on introduced annual grasses. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 10.

Erodium spp. (3)

- Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.
- Bauder, E. T. (1996). Exotics in the southern California bernal pool ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

erosion (1)

- Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.

Erysimum teretifolium (1)

- McGraw, J. (2002). Management of rare native species amidst exotic plant competition: Insights from Santa Cruz County's endemic sandhills community. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Eschscholzia californica (1)

- Leger, E. A. (2003). Rapid evolution of invasive California poppies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

estuaries (1)

- Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

eucalyptus (4)

- Dicus, C. A. (2004). Benefits versus fire risk of native and invasive vegetation in the wildland-urban interface. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Heath, M. and S. Grove (2004). Trees and shrubs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Eucalyptus camaldulensis (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Kelly, M. (2001). Drilling as a technique for controlling eucalyptus, palms & other exotic trees. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Eucalyptus globulus (5)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Boyd, D. (1997). Eucalyptus removal on Angel Island. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J., A. Stanton, et al. (2005). Invasive Plant Inventory ("weed list") working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Horowitz, M. (2003). Alternatives to chemical stump treatment of Acacia dealbata. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Eupatorium odoratum (1)

Djohan, T. S. (2006). The invasion of Eupatorium odoratum in secondary tropical monsoon forest in the watershed of Bian-Kumbe in Merauke, Papua Indonesia. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

eupatory (1)

Alvarez, M. and L. Ponzini (2003). Control of Ageratina adenophora in the Marin Headlands, Golden Gate National Recreation Area. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Euphorbia esula (5)

Brown, W. Y. and A. G. Brown (1998). Campaign against invasive species: A call for action. California Exotic Pest Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Westbrooks, R. G. (1995). Federal regulatory efforts to minimize the introduction and impacts of exotic pest plants in the United States. CalEPPC Symposium '95. Asilomar, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 3: 6.

Euphorbia oblongata (2)

Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Euphorbia serrata (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Euphorbia terracina (1)

Dickerson, E., C. Brigham, et al. (2004). Ecohelpers: Education and ecological restoration in Southern California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Euphorbia esula (1)

Leistriz, F. L. (2002). Analyzing economic impacts of leafy spurge in the northern Great Plains. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Eurasian watermilfoil (3)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Anderson, L., K. Zaremba, et al. (2004). Aquatic working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Eureka (1)

Miller, L. (1997). Volunteer programs in rural areas. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

European beachgrass (5)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hyland, T. and P. Holloran (2005). Controlling European beachgrass (Ammophila arenaria) using prescribed burns and herbicide. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hyland, T. and P. Holloran (2005). Controlling European beachgrass (Ammophila arenaria) using prescribed burns and herbicide. Cal-IPC Symposium. Chico, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Peterson, B. (2004). The use of heavy machinery (excavators) to remove Ammophila arenaria (European beachgrass) from native sand dunes at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Euryops multifidus (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frlger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Eustenopus villosus (3)

Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Spencer, D. F., M. J. Pitcairn, et al. (2005). Effect of fertilizer additions on yellow starthistle insect biological control agents. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

exotic (26)

- Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.
- Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.
- Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
- Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.
- Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.
- Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.
- Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.
- Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.
- Deuser, C. (1998). Exotic plant control to preserve and restore riparian areas in numerous national park units. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 67-68.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.
- DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.
- DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.
- Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.
- Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.
- Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.
- Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.
- Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.
- Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.
- Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.
- Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.
- Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- St. John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.
- Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.
- Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.
- Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.
- Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

extension (1)

- DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

false brome (2)

- Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

false peacock fly (2)

- Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

false Solomon's seal (1)

- Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

fan palms (1)

- Kelly, M. (2001). Drilling as a technique for controlling eucalyptus, palms & other exotic trees. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Fatoua villosa (1)

- Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Federal Invasive Species Task Force (1)

- Brown, W. Y. and A. G. Brown (1998). Campaign against invasive species: A call for action. California Exotic Pest Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

fennel (9)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Bell, C. E., K. Roesch, et al. (2004). Finding effective herbicide treatments for fennel (Foeniculum vulgare). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Dickerson, E., C. Brigham, et al. (2004). Ecohelpers: Education and ecological restoration in Southern California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Easley, T., D. Bieber, et al. (2005). The fennel battle on MCB Camp Pendleton: Partnerships and techniques in combating the invasion. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Erskine, J. (2000). The plant community effects of a burn and two herbicide sprays on a fennel infested grassland in the Central Valley of Santa Cruz Island, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Gibson, J. K. (2000). The presence of fennel affects the distribution of lizards on Santa Cruz Island. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Gwinn, A. (2006). The cost and effectiveness of small-scale fennel control methods. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Kelly, M. (2006). Fifteen years later: What were we looking for and what did we get? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

feral goats (1)

- Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

feral pigs (1)

- Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

fertilizer (1)

- St. John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.

fescue (1)

- Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Festuca arundinacea (4)

- Antonio, C. D. and J. Gerlach (2003). Annual grasses: Status of biology and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Corbin, J. D., M. Thomsen, et al. (2004). Out of the frying pan: Invasion of exotic perennial grasses in coastal prairies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Festuca rubra (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Corbin, J. D. and C. M. D'Antonio (2000). Does sawdust addition reduce soil ammonium levels and promote native grass growth in competition with exotic grasses? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

FICMNEW (2)

Harper-Lore, B. L. (1997). The roadside view of a national weed strategy. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Jackson, N. E. and E. D. Schneider (1995). Update: Federal interagency committee for the management of noxious and exotic weeds. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ficus carica (6)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ficus microcarpa L. (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ficus pseudocarica (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ficus rubiginosa var. australis (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

fieldrest harrow (1)

Little, R. (2001). Anonas spp. (fieldrest harrow): Rapid response to the first known U.S. infestation. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Filago gallica (1)

Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

filare (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

filaree (1)

Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

fine-leaved nassella (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

fire (8)

Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.

Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.

Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.

Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.

fireweed (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

flaming(1)

Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.

flea beetle (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

fleeceflower (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

flower weevil (1)

Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Foeniculum vulgare (9)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Bell, C. E., K. Roesch, et al. (2004). Finding effective herbicide treatments for fennel (Foeniculum vulgare). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Dickerson, E., C. Brigham, et al. (2004). Ecohelpers: Education and ecological restoration in Southern California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Easley, T., D. Bieber, et al. (2005). The fennel battle on MCB Camp Pendleton: Partnerships and techniques in combating the invasion. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Erskine, J. (2000). The plant community effects of a burn and two herbicide sprays on a fennel infested grassland in the Central Valley of Santa Cruz Island, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Gibson, J. K. (2000). The presence of fennel affects the distribution of lizards on Santa Cruz Island. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Gwinn, A. (2006). The cost and effectiveness of small-scale fennel control methods. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

forest (2)

Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

Formosan subterranean termite (1)

Widmer, T. L., A. A. Kirk, et al. (2003). The European Biological Control Laboratory: Contributing to successful management of invasive species in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

fountain grass (2)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Northam, F. E. (2001). Invasive plant species management in Arizona. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

fourwing saltbush (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

foxtail chess (1)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

fragrant ever-lasting (1)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Frankenia (1)

Lair, K. and M. Ryan (2003). Revegetation: When and how. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Frankenia salina (1)

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Fremont cottonwood (3)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Stromberg, J., S. Lite, et al. (2003). Managing stream flow regimes for riparian ecosystem restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

French broom (16)

Alexander, J. M. F. and C. M. D'Antonio (2000). Factors affecting successful control of French and Scotch broom and restoration of native communities in coastal California grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.
Bossard, C., K. Moore, et al. (2005). A test of repeat flaming as a control for poison hemlock (Conium maculatum), Cape ivy (Delairia odorata), and periwinkle (Vinca major). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.
Briscoe, E. and T. Anderson (2000). War on weeds - invasive weed education and outreach program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Corbin, J. D. and C. M. D'Antonio (2003). Too much of a good thing: Restoration of native biodiversity following soil nitrogen enrichment. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Gluesenkamp, D. (2003). Marin-Sonoma Weed Management Area: Putting the 'we' in weed management. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Klein, J. (2004). Weeds in wildland/urban interface fuelbreaks: Challenges and opportunities. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Klein, J. (2006). Pseudo-replication, no replication, and a complete lack of control: In praise of dirty data for weed managers. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Klein, J. and S. Fiala (2005). Effects of single pass flaming on previously brush-cut Genista monspessulana. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Lienk, L. L. (2002). Eradicating, educating, and enticing: Having fun with the war on weeds. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Moore, K. (2004). Flaming: A new tool for wildland weed control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

fungus (2)

- Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Galenia pubescens (1)

- Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

gall fly (1)

- Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Gambusia affinis (1)

- Kennedy, T. (2001). The impacts of a riparian invader, salt cedar (Tamarix ramosissima), on a stream food web. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Gastridium ventricosum (1)

- Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

genetic (1)

- Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Genista linifolia (1)

- Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura,

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Genista monosperma (8)

- Alexander, J. M. (1999). Restoration of French broom-invaded habitat: Effects of prescribed burning, seed bank composition, & time since invasion. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
- Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.
- Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.
- Boyd, D. (1997). Eucalyptus removal on Angel Island. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Swezy, M. and D. C. Odion (1997). Fire on the mountain*: A land manager's manifesto for broom control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Genista monspessulana (13)

- Alexander, J. M. F. and C. M. D'Antonio (2000). Factors affecting successful control of French and Scotch broom and restoration of native communities in coastal California grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Bossard, C., K. Moore, et al. (2005). A test of repeat flaming as a control for poison hemlock (Conium maculatum), Cape ivy (Delairia odorata), and periwinkle (Vinca major). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Briscoe, E. and T. Anderson (2000). War on weeds - invasive weed education and outreach program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Corbin, J. D. and C. M. D'Antonio (2003). Too much of a good thing: Restoration of native biodiversity following soil nitrogen enrichment. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Gluesenkamp, D. (2003). Marin-Sonoma Weed Management Area: Putting the 'we' in weed management. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Klein, J. (2004). Weeds in wildland/urban interface fuelbreaks: Challenges and opportunities. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Klein, J. (2006). Pseudo-replication, no replication, and a complete lack of control: In praise of dirty data for weed managers. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Klein, J. and S. Fiala (2005). Effects of single pass flaming on previously brush-cut Genista monspessulana. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Lienk, L. L. (2002). Eradicating, educating, and enticing: Having fun with the war on weeds. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Moore, K. (2004). Flaming: A new tool for wildland weed control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Genista spp. (2)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

Geranium carolinum (1)

Hastings, M. S. and J. M. DiTomaso (1996). Fire controls yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) in California grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Geranium lucidum (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Geranium robertianum(1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Geranium rotundifolium (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

German ivy (2)

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Moore, K., G. Hayes, et al. (1995). Volunteers and long-term community support for effective pest plant control. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

germination (1)

Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

ghost moths (1)

Slattery, P. N., K. L. Uschyk, et al. (2003). Controlling weeds with weeds: Disturbance, succession, yellow lupines and their role in the successful restoration of a native dune community. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

giant knotweed (2)

Crockett, R. P. and M. L. Krebsbach (2004). The new "JK Injection Tool" for control of knotweeds and other hollow-stem plants growing in sensitive wetland sites. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California,

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

California Invasive Plant Council.

giant reed (52)

- Ahmad, R., I. Liow, et al. (2005). Analysis of clonal diversity in giant reed (Arundo donax L.) using molecular markers. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Bautista, S. (1998). A comparison of two methods for controlling Arundo donax. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Bell, C. (1998). Risks and effects of various control methods. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Coffman, G. C. (2004). Invasion of Arundo donax in riparian ecosystems of Mediterranean-type climates: Causes, impacts and management strategies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Coffman, G. C., T. Dudley, et al. (2005). Are we creating the ideal conditions for Arundo donax invasion in California? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Dipietro, D. (2000). Team Arundo del Norte: Collaborative approach to exotic pest plant control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- DiPietro, D. and T. Dudley (2002). Influences of Arundo donax invasion on riparian biodiversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- DiTomaso, J. (1996). Biology and ecology of giant reed. Arundo and saltcedar: the deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Fitch, M. T. and D. Bieber (2004). The riparian weed management program at Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton: Past, present, and future. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Frandsen, P. (1998). The political side of exotic pest plants. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Frandsen, P. and N. E. Jackson (1998). Santa Ana River Interagency Habitat Recovery Project, Van Buren Bridge Project Area summary. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Gaffney, K. (2003). A watershed approach to Arundo donax removal and riparian restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Gaffney, K. and R. Hunter (2005). Incorporating applied research into an ongoing watershed-based, programmatic approach to Arundo donax removal. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Giessow, J. (2000). Mapping distribution and acreage of an exotic plant using orthorectified imagery & field mapping to produce GIS coverages. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Giessow, J. (2001). Watershed based eradication of Arundo donax (giant reed): from pulling together to mapping to treating to re-planting. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, San Diego, California.
- Giessow, J. and J. Giessow (2001). Planning Arundo donax removal: A review of methods for control and biomass removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Giessow, J., J. Giessow, et al. (2000). Non-native plant control on the watershed level: Role of the Santa Margarita and San Luis Rey Watersheds Weed Management Area. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Giessow, J. and M. Newhowser (2004). Riparian working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Heckert, K. (2004). A watershed approach to giant reed removal: An economic and environmental win:win for the Russian River. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Jackson, N. E. (1998). Chemical control of giant reed (Arundo donax) and saltcedar (Tamarix ramosissima).

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Kirk, A. A., T. Widmer, et al. (2003). The potential contribution of natural enemies from Mediterranean Europe to the management of the invasive weed Arundo donax (Graminae; Arundinae) in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Kirk, A. A., T. Widmer, et al. (2002). Focusing foreign exploration for biocontrol agents of Arundo donax using CLIMEX, distribution records, genetics and laboratory rearing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lawson, D. M. and H. Smead (2001). Evaluation of chipped Arundo biomass as mulch. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lovich, R. E., E. L. Ervin, et al. (2001). Terrestrial fauna community composition of Arundo donax (Poaceae) root Masses. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Mitchell, J., J. Giessow, et al. (2001). Role of the Santa Margarita and San Luis Rey Watersheds Weed Management Area in watershed based exotic plant control and restoration in northern San Diego County. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Motamed, E. R. and A. H. B. M. Witje (1998). Rooting by stem fragments from hanging and upright stems of giant reed (Arundo donax). Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Neill, B. and J. Giessow (2001). Distributions of Arundo donax in coastal watersheds of southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Newhouser, M. (2000). Arundo donax eradication and coordination project: Coordinating eradication projects in the Bay-Delta region. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Newhouser, M. (2003). Arundo eradication and coordination program. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Peck, G. G. (1998). Hydroponic growth characteristics of Arundo donax L. under salt stress. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Quinn, L. and J. Holt (2003). Invasibility of experimental riparian communities by Arundo donax. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Quinn, L. and J. S. Holt (2004). Effects of environment on establishment of Arundo donax in three southern California riparian areas. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Rauterkus, M. and J. Holt (2003). Seasonal activity and impacts of Arundo donax. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Rose, P. (2002). Regulatory compliance at the county level. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Rose, P. and N. Cabanting (2004). Effects of arundo removal methods on revegetation: A conservation field trial. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Schoenig, S., D. DiPietro, et al. (2004). Mapping working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sher, A. A., D. F. Spencer, et al. (2002). Arundo donax physiology, shoot, and root growth under two nutrient regimes. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Simonsen-Marchant, J., J. Boland, et al. (2006). Assessment of treatment effectiveness and relative cost of giant reed (Arundo donax) removal in the Tijuana River Valley. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Spencer, D. F. and G. G. Ksander (2000). Influence of environmental conditions on shoot emergence from Arundo donax rhizomes. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Spencer, D. F. and G. G. Ksander (2002). Predicting Arundo donax shoot emergence using degree-day based equations. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Stein, E. D. (1998). Invasive weed control as mitigation: A shifting paradigm. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Thomsen, C. D. (2000). Bear Creek watershed restoration program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tracy, J. L. and C. J. DeLoach (1998). Biological controls of saltcedar in the United States: Progress and projected ecological effects. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Tracy, J. L. and C. J. DeLoach (1998). Suitability of classical biological control for giant reed (Arundo donax) in the United States. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Vartanian, V. (1998). Destructive nature of arundo and tamarisk. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Warner, J. (2004). Funding invasive plant projects through the farm bill. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Widmer, T. L., A. A. Kirk, et al. (2003). The European Biological Control Laboratory: Contributing to successful management of invasive species in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Witje, A. H. B. M. (1998). The role of tissue nitrogen content on Arundo donax translocation rates and rhizome growth. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Zemal, R. (1998). Habitat for threatened and endangered species: Quarantine areas of control exotic weeds? Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

giant salvinia (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

GIS (1)

Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.

Gleditsia triacanthos (3)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Glomus aggregatum (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Glomus intraradices (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Glomus mosseae (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Glyceria declinata (1)

Gerlach, J. and H. Meimberg (2006). Central Valley vernal pools invaded by waxy mangrass (Glyceria declinata). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Gnaphalium luteo-album (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Gnaphalium purpureum (1)

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

goats (1)

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

goldenbush (1)

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Goodding willow (1)

Stromberg, J., S. Lite, et al. (2003). Managing stream flow regimes for riparian ecosystem restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Gopherus agassizi (1)

Avery, H. (1994). Diet selection and nutritional ecology of the desert tortoise fed native vs. exotic vegetation: Implications for habitat restoration and land management. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 7.

gorse (4)

Corbin, J. D. and C. M. D'Antonio (2003). Too much of a good thing: Restoration of native biodiversity following soil nitrogen enrichment. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pitcairn, M. (1993). Introduction and distribution of biological control agents against exotic weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 9.

Steinmaus, S. (2002). Using climatic models to predict the potential range of invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

GPS (1)

Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.

gradient (1)

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.

grass (5)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.

grasses (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

grassland (1)

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

grazing(1)

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

great basin wildrye (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Great Valley gumweed (1)

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

green wattle (1)

Horowitz, M. (2003). Alternatives to chemical stump treatment of Acacia dealbata. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Grindelia camporum (1)

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Grindelia camporum var. camporum (1)

Sperber, T. and F. T. Griggs (2005). Suppressing exotic weeds on restoration projects using an aggressive herbaceous understory. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

groundsel (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

gumplant (1)

Sperber, T. and F. T. Griggs (2005). Suppressing exotic weeds on restoration projects using an aggressive herbaceous understory. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Gymnancyla canella (2)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

habitat (1)

Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.

hackberry (2)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

hairy cats ears (1)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

hairy weevil (2)

Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Halimodendron halodendron (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Halogeton glomeratus (2)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

hardinggrass (3)

Antonio, C. D. and J. Gerlach (2003). Annual grasses: Status of biology and control. California Invasive Plant

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Corbin, J. D., M. Thomsen, et al. (2004). Out of the frying pan: Invasion of exotic perennial grasses in coastal prairies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

hawkweeds (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hedera canariensis (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hedera helix (3)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Williams, A. (2004). English ivy removal at Redwood National and State Parks. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

hedge nettle (1)

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

hedge parsley (1)

Oneto, S., J. M. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Control of hedge parsley (Torilis arvensis). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Heilipodus ventralis (1)

Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Helianthemum greenei(1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Helianthemum scoparium (1)

Keeley, J. E. (2004). Fire management impacts on invasive species at the wildland/urban interface in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Helianthus ciliaris (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exoatic Pest Plant Council.

Helianthus spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Helichrysum petiolare (3)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hemizonia congesta subs. luzulifolia (1)

Hulvey, K. and E. Zavaleta (2006). The effect of native forb abundance on invasion resistance in California grasslands. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

henbit (1)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

herb-robert (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

herbicide (4)

Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

Heteromeles arbutifolia (1)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Heteropogon contortus (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hieracium spp.(1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hilaria jamesii (1)

Belnap, J. (2000). Soil consequences of Bromus tectorum invasion. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Himalayan blackberry (5)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lennox, M., D. Lewis, et al. (2006). Riparian revegetation outcomes on California north coast ranches. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ordóñez, L. (2003). Tilling shows promise for controlling Himalayan blackberry in Yosemite Valley (California). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Himalayan knotweed (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hirschfeldia incana (3)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Quinn, L., B. Davis, et al. (2006). Does horse manure harbor invasive plants? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

history (1)

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Hoary cress (1)

Clines, J. (2005). Preventing weed spread via contaminated hay and straw. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Holcus lanatus(5)

Antonio, C. D. and J. Gerlach (2003). Annual grasses: Status of biology and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Corbin, J. D., M. Thomsen, et al. (2004). Out of the frying pan: Invasion of exotic perennial grasses in coastal prairies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

honey locust (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

honey mesquite (1)

Brooks, M. (2001). Introduction and overview of invasive species in the southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hordeum leporinum (1)

Minnich, R. A. (1994). Effects of exotic plants on three California ecosystems. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 5-6.

Hordeum marinum (1)

Quinn, L., B. Davis, et al. (2006). Does horse manure harbor invasive plants? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hordeum marinum ssp. gussoneanum (1)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hordeum murinum (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hordeum vulgare (1)

Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.

horsenettle (1)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

houndstongue (3)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

human (1)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Hydrilla verticillata (6)

DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Leavitt, J. R. and C. Piroosko (2002). A brief overview of the California Dept. of Food and Agriculture's A-rated noxious weed education and eradication program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Maly, F. C. (2006). Hydrilla eradication efforts in the Chowchilla River and Eastman Reservoir in Central California: A success story. Cal-IPC Symposium, Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hydrocotyle (1)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hypericum calycinum (1)

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

Hypericum canariense (3)

Dlugosch, K. (2002). Recently-introduced shrub Hypericum canariense (Canary Island St. Johnswort). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hypericum concinnum(1)

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

Hypericum perforatum(6)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Kirk, A. A., T. Widmer, et al. (2003). The potential contribution of natural enemies from Mediterranean Europe to the management of the invasive weed Arundo donax (Graminae; Arundinae) in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: Biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.
- Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hypochaeris glabra (3)

- Bauder, E. T. (1996). Exotics in the southern California bernal pool ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- McGraw, J. (2002). Management of rare native species amidst exotic plant competition: Insights from Santa Cruz County's endemic sandhills community. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Quinn, L., B. Davis, et al. (2006). Does horse manure harbor invasive plants? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hypochaeris radicata (2)

- Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hypochoeris glabra (1)

- Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

iceplant (6)

- Briscoe, E. and T. Anderson (2000). War on weeds - invasive weed education and outreach program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Dicus, C. A. (2004). Benefits versus fire risk of native and invasive vegetation in the wildland-urban interface. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- DiTomaso, J., A. Stanton, et al. (2005). Invasive Plant Inventory ("weed list") working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Drennan, P. M. and L. Zakrzewski (2004). The effect of soil salinity and flooding on the growth Carpobrotus edulis (L.) N.B. Br.: Implications for its spread into the Ballona Wetlands. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Rodgers, J. and K. Cooper (2004). Dunes working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ilex aquifolium (2)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

imazapir (1)

Bell, C. E. (1997). Using Arsenal for brushy species control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

impact (6)

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

implication (1)

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

inland saltgrass (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

invasion (3)

Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.

invasive (14)

Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Deuser, C. (1998). Exotic plant control to preserve and restore riparian areas in numerous national park units. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 67-68.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2006). Invasive weeds from the nursery. 58: 83-85.

Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

invasive Spartina (1)

Smith, D., S. Klohr, et al. (2001). Introduced Spartina in San Francisco Bay: 2000-2001 survey and findings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

INWAC (1)

Harper-Lore, B. L. (1997). The roadside view of a national weed strategy. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

IPM (2)

Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.

St. John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.

Iris pseudacorus (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Isatis tinctoria (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Clines, J. (2005). Preventing weed spread via contaminated hay and straw. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Isocoma (1)

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Italian ryegrass (1)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Italian thistle (6)

Briscoe, E. and T. Anderson (2000). War on weeds - invasive weed education and outreach program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Guerriero, A. (2002). Monitoring Carduus pycnocephalus (Italian thistle) on grasslands in coastal central California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Stanton, E. and E. Maher (2006). Determining the best management technique for Italian thistle. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

ivy (1)

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Japanese kelp (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Japanese knotweed (3)

Crockett, R. P. and M. L. Krebsbach (2004). The new "JK Injection Tool" for control of knotweeds and other hollow-stem plants growing in sensitive wetland sites. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Johnsongrass (1)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

jubata grass (9)

- Briscoe, E. and T. Anderson (2000). War on weeds - invasive weed education and outreach program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Drewitz, J. J. and J. M. DiTomaso (2000). Seed biology and control of jubatagrass. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Kelly, M. (2001). 10 years of CalEPPC. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Lambrinos, J. G. (2002). The creeping loss of California's once Widespread shrublands to pampasgrass and other aliens. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Lambrinos, J. G. (2004). A tale of two invaders: The dynamic history of pampas grass and jubata grass in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Okada, M., R. Ahmad, et al. (2004). Identifying origins and tracing spread of pampasgrass and jubatagrass in California by microsatellite markers. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Powers, J. (2005). Large scale pampas grass control program. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Tschohl, A. (2000). Jubatagrass vs pampasgrass: A growth analysis and comparison of invasive potential. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

jubatagrass (2)

- Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Okada, M., M. Lyle, et al. (2006). Molecular evidence supporting the horticultural origin of invasive jubata grass (Cortaderia jubata). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Juglans (1)

- Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Juglans hindsii (1)

- Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Juglans nigra (1)

- Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Juglans regia (1)

- Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

jumping weevil(1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Junaceae (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). Using a computer-based diagnostics program for the identification of weedy grasses. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Junacus breweri (1)

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Juncus balticus (2)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Juncus falcatus (1)

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

juniper (1)

Brooks, M. (2001). Introduction and overview of invasive species in the southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Juniperus (1)

Brooks, M. (2001). Introduction and overview of invasive species in the southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

kangaroo apple (1)

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

kikuyugrass (1)

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Klamathweed (1)

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

knapweed (1)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

knapweeds (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

kudzu (3)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Westbrooks, R. G. (2001). Invasive species, coming to America: New strategies for biological protection through prescreening, early warning, and rapid response. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

lace plant bug (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

lacebug (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lactuca serriola (2)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lagarosiphon major (1)

Anderson, L., K. Zaremba, et al. (2004). Aquatic working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lamium amplexicaule (1)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Larinus curtus (1)

Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Larinus filiformis (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Larrea (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

Larrea tridentata (1)

Brooks, M. (2001). Introduction and overview of invasive species in the southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lasiospermum bipinnatum (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lathyrus cicera (1)

Hastings, M. S. and J. M. DiTomaso (1996). Fire controls yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) in California grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lavatera cretica (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Layia carnosa (1)

Peterson, B. (2004). The use of heavy machinery (excavators) to remove Ammophila arenaria (European beachgrass) from native sand dunes at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

leafy spurge (2)

Brown, W. Y. and A. G. Brown (1998). Campaign against invasive species: A call for action. California Exotic Pest Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Leistriz, F. L. (2002). Analyzing economic impacts of leafy spurge in the northern Great Plains. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

leafy spurge. (1)

Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

legume(3)

Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.

Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.

Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.

Lemmon s ceanothus(1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Leonotus nepetaefolia (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lepidium (1)

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

Lepidium densiflorum (1)

Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lepidium latifolium (29)

Brigham, C. (2004). Towards eradication of Lepidium latifolium at Paramount Ranch: Control methods and a test of restoration treatments. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S. G. (1997). Flood-borne noxious weeds: Impacts on riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Etra, J. (2006). Tall whitetop control on the 102 Ranch and implications for other applications. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Giessow, J. and M. Newhowser (2004). Riparian working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hogle, I., J. H. Viers, et al. (2003). Spatial analysis of perennial pepperweed infestation in a seasonal floodplain. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hogle, I. B. and R. Waegell (2005). Perennial pepperweed control experiment at the Cosumnes River Preserve. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hogle, I. H., J. H. Viers, et al. (2004). Floodplain invasion: Tracking pepperweed expansion in the Cosumnes River. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Kelly, M. (1998). SWAT: Special weed action teams as ambassadors for education and energy. California Exotic

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Leininger, S. and T. C. Foin (2006). Water, salt, and pepper: Lepidium latifolium invasion potential along a salinity and moisture gradient. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pyke, D. A. (2000). The use of fire to control exotic plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Renz, M. J. and J. M. DiTomaso (1999). Mechanism(s) responsible for enhancing the effectiveness of glyphosate in controlling perennial pepperweed. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Rogers, C. (2004). Distribution of perennial pepperweed in Bay-Delta wetlands: a CalFed mapping project. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Schoenig, S., D. DiPietro, et al. (2004). Mapping working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Spent, R. and T. C. Foin (2006). Is glyphosate a good choice for perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium) control in tidal wetlands in the San Francisco Estuary? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.
- Sperber, T. and F. T. Griggs (2005). Suppressing exotic weeds on restoration projects using an aggressive herbaceous understory. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Thomsen, C. D. (2000). Bear Creek watershed restoration program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Wilson, R., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2006). Integrated management strategies for perennial pepperweed. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '06. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

Lepidopteran (1)

- Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Leucaena leucocephala (1)

- Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frtger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Leucanthemum vulgare (2)

- Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Leucathemem vulgare (1)

- Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Leymus sp. (1)

Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Leymus triticoides (4)

Etra, J. (2006). Tall whitetop control on the 102 Ranch and implications for other applications. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lulow, M. E. (2003). Invasion resistance to non-native annual grasses among California native grass Species in the Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

licoriceplant (2)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Linaria (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Linaria genistifolia (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Linaria genistifolia ssp. dalmatica (3)

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Linaria vulgaris (1)

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lixus incanescens (2)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lolium multiflorum (6)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Minnich, R. A. (1994). Effects of exotic plants on three California ecosystems. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 5-6.

Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.

Quinn, L., B. Davis, et al. (2006). Does horse manure harbor invasive plants? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Weiss, S. B. (2003). Nitrogen deposition impacts on a nutrient-poor grassland ecosystem: Conservation, management and restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lolium perenne (2)

Bauder, E. T. (1996). Exotics in the southern California bernal pool ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Hastings, M. S. and J. M. DiTomaso (1996). Fire controls yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) in California grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

London plane tree (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

London rocket (1)

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

long-flowered veldtgrass (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lotus corniculatus (1)

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lotus micranthus (1)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lotus purshianus (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lotus scoparius (1)

Keeley, J. E. (2004). Fire management impacts on invasive species at the wildland/urban interface in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ludwegia peploides (2)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Anderson, L., K. Zaremba, et al. (2004). Aquatic working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ludwigia hexapetala (3)

Meisler, J. A. (2005). Control of water primrose (Ludwigia hexapetala) in a freshwater wetland. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Verdone, L. (2003). Creeping water primrose (Ludwigia hexapetala) in the Laguna de Santa Rosa. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Verdone, L. (2004). Creeping water primrose (Ludwigia hexapetala): The ecology and impacts of an invasive aquatic plant in the Laguna de Santa Rosa. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ludwigia sp. (1)

McNabb, T. J. and J. Meisler (2006). Two years of Ludwigia control in the Laguna de Santa Rosa process and progress. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ludwigia spp. (1)

Blair M.D., C. E. (2006). Invasive aquatic weeds: Implications for mosquito and vector management activities. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lupinus arboreus (7)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Corbin, J. D. and C. M. D'Antonio (2003). Too much of a good thing: Restoration of native biodiversity following soil nitrogen enrichment. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Slattery, P. N., K. L. Uschyk, et al. (2003). Controlling weeds with weeds: Disturbance, succession, yellow lupines and their role in the successful restoration of a native dune community. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Uschyk, K. L. and P. Slattery (2000). The use of native yellow lupines for controlling riggut brome and radish. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lupinus tidestromii (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Peterson, B. (2004). The use of heavy machinery (excavators) to remove Ammophila arenaria (European beachgrass) from native sand dunes at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lythrum hyssopifolium (2)

Bauder, E. T. (1996). Exotics in the southern California bernal pool ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Quinn, L., B. Davis, et al. (2006). Does horse manure harbor invasive plants? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lythrum salicaria (10)

Benfield, C. (2000). Preventing the purple plague from taking over California's waterways. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Benfield, C. B. and D. Butler (2001). Purple loosestrife under siege in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Blossey, B. (1996). The search for patterns or what determines the increased competitive ability of invasive non-indigenous plants? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Brown, W. Y. and A. G. Brown (1998). Campaign against invasive species: A call for action. California Exotic Pest Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Butler, D. and S. Schoenig (2002). Preventing the purple plague from taking over California's wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S. G. (1997). Flood-borne noxious weeds: Impacts on riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Westbrooks, R. G. (1995). Federal regulatory efforts to minimize the introduction and impacts of exotic pest plants in the United States. CalEPPC Symposium '95. Asilomar, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 3: 6.

Westbrooks, R. G. (2001). Invasive species, coming to America: New strategies for biological protection through prescreening, early warning, and rapid response. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Maclura pomifera (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

madrone (1)

DiTomaso, J. (2003). Fire: Prescribed burning as a management tool. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Malta starthistle (3)

Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Marler, M. J. and R. M. Callaway (2000). Role of mycorrhizae in Centaurea invasions. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Northam, F. E. (2001). Invasive plant species management in Arizona. California Exotic Pest Plant Council

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Manila Beach (1)

Miller, L. (1997). Volunteer programs in rural areas. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

mapping (1)

Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.

marine alga (1)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Marlahan mustard (1)

Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

marsh (1)

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

marsh wren (1)

Nordby, J. C., A. N. Cohen, et al. (2004). Behavioral responses of birds to invasive spartina in San Francisco Bay salt marshes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Matricaria globifera (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Matricaria inodora (1)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

mayten(1)

Leong, E. (2000). Mayten: An outbreak averted? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Maytenus boaria (3)

Leong, E. (2000). Mayten: An outbreak averted? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California,

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

California Invasive Plant Council.

Mayweed (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

meadow knapweed (4)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

mechanical (4)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

mechanical control (1)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Medicago polymorpha (1)

Quinn, L., B. Davis, et al. (2006). Does horse manure harbor invasive plants? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Mediterranean annual grasses & forbs (1)

Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.

Mediterranean barley (1)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Mediterranean beardgrass (1)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Mediterranean broom (1)

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Mediterranean buckthorn (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Mediterranean fruitfly (1)

Westbrooks, R. G. (2001). Invasive species, coming to America: New strategies for biological protection through prescreening, early warning, and rapid response. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Mediterranean grass (1)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Mediterranean steppegrass (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Medusahead (8)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Coppoletta, M. (2006). Testing the effects of flaming as a method of medusahead (Taeniatherum caput-medusae) control on the Plumas National Forest. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. (2003). Fire: Prescribed burning as a management tool. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (2001). Integrated management of yellow starthistle and medusahead using prescribed burning and clopyralid. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pushnik, J., J. W. Hunt, et al. (2005). Experimental herbaceous restoration and noxious weed mitigation at the California Department of Fish and Game 217's Butler Slough Ecological Reserve, Eastern Tehama County. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pyke, D. A. (2000). The use of fire to control exotic plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D. (2000). Bear Creek watershed restoration program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Melaleuca (2)

Bell, C. E. (1997). Using Arsenal for brushy species control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Brown, W. Y. and A. G. Brown (1998). Campaign against invasive species: A call for action. California Exotic

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Pest Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Melaleuca quinquenervia (1)

Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Melilotis indica (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Melospiza melodia pusillula (1)

Nordby, J. C., A. N. Cohen, et al. (2004). Behavioral responses of birds to invasive spartina in San Francisco Bay salt marshes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Mentha pulegium (3)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Quinn, L., B. Davis, et al. (2006). Does horse manure harbor invasive plants? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Mesembryanthemum crystallinum (1)

West, P. (2001). Invasive species in northern Mexico. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

method (2)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

Mexican fan palm (2)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Mexican feathergrass (2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). 2004 Cal-IPC Red Alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Miconia (1)

Brown, W. Y. and A. G. Brown (1998). Campaign against invasive species: A call for action. California Exotic Pest Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Miconia calvescens (1)

Bily, P. (1996). Miconia calvescens on the island of Maui: Profile of an early containment attempt for a new plant pest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

midge (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Mimosa pigra (1)

Humphries, S. E. (1996). Australian national weeds strategy: What are the lessons? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

mission blue butterfly (1)

Alvarez, M. and L. Ponzini (2003). Control of Ageratina adenophora in the Marin Headlands, Golden Gate National Recreation Area. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

mite (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

moisture (1)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Mojave Desert (1)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Mojave seabligh (1)

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

molecular (1)

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

molecular biology (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (1)

Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Monsanto (1)

Lemon, M. D. (1998). Accidents and herbicide spills: What should you do? California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Montana (1)

Mullin, B. (1999). Noxious weed eradication program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Monterey pine (2)

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lair, K. and M. Ryan (2003). Revegetation: When and how. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Moroccan mustard (1)

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Morrenia odorata (1)

Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Morus (1)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Morus alba (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

mosquitofish (1)

Kennedy, T. (2001). The impacts of a riparian invader, salt cedar (Tamarix ramosissima), on a stream food web. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

most beautiful jewelflower (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Green, A. R. (2004). Are exotic species shrinking serpentine refugia for native plants? The case of a rare annual jewelflower in Santa Clara County, CA. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

MOU (1)

Knox, A. (1997). Interagency cooperation for noxious weed control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Mount Hermon june beetle (1)

Horowitz, M. (2003). Alternatives to chemical stump treatment of Acacia dealbeta. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

mourningbride (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

mugwort (1)

Sperber, T. and F. T. Griggs (2005). Suppressing exotic weeds on restoration projects using an aggressive herbaceous understory. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

mulberry (3)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

mule deer (1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

mule fat (2)

Coffman, G. C., T. Dudley, et al. (2005). Are we creating the ideal conditions for Arundo donax invasion in California? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

musk thistle (5)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, R. L., V. F. Carrithers, et al. (2006). Managing rangeland invasive plants with Aminopyralid (MilestoneTM). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Mycorrhizae (2)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

St. John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.

myoporum (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Myoporum laetum (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Myriophyllum aquaticum (2)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Myriophyllum spicatum (4)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Anderson, L., K. Zaremba, et al. (2004). Aquatic working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S. G. (1997). Flood-borne noxious weeds: Impacts on riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Myrtle Silverspot butterfly (1)

Peterson, B. (2004). The use of heavy machinery (excavators) to remove Ammophila arenaria (European beachgrass) from native sand dunes at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Nassella pulchra (5)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Corbin, J. D. and C. M. D'Antonio (2000). Does sawdust addition reduce soil ammonium levels and promote native grass growth in competition with exotic grasses? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Gelbard, J. L. and S. Harrison (2001). Interactive effects of roads, soils, and exposure on invasion of Calif.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Marler, M. J. and R. M. Callaway (2000). Role of mycorrhizae in Centaurea invasions. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2002). Effect of competition on artichoke thistle, Cynara cardunculus. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Nassella tenuissima (4)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). 2004 Cal-IPC Red Alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

National Park (1)

Deuser, C. (1998). Exotic plant control to preserve and restore riparian areas in numerous national park units. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 67-68.

native (1)

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.

native grass (1)

Lulow, M. E. (2003). Invasion resistance to non-native annual grasses among California native grass Species in the Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

NAWMA (1)

Harper-Lore, B. L. (1997). The roadside view of a national weed strategy. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

needlegrass (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). 2004 Cal-IPC Red Alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Nelumbo lutea (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Nerium oleander (4)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

new (1)

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

NFWF (1)

Benefield, C. B. (1999). Private and public funding opportunities: Sources of funding for weed management programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Nicotiana glauca (2)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Oneto, S., J. M. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Control of tree tobacco (Nicotiana glauca). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

night jasmine (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

nightshades (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

nit grass (1)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

nitrate (1)

St.John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.

nitrogen (1)

St.John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.

non-crop (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

North Africa grass (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

northern leopard frog (1)

Trumbo, J. (2005). An assessment of the hazard of a mixture of the herbicide Rodeo® and the non-ionic surfactant R-11® to aquatic invertebrates and larval amphibians. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

NPCI (1)

Benfield, C. B. (1999). Private and public funding opportunities: Sources of funding for weed management programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

nursery (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2006). Invasive weeds from the nursery. 58: 83-85.

oaks (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

oblong spurge (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Odocoileus hemonius (1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Olea europaea (6)

Bell, C. E. and C. Bell (2003). Killing olive (Olea europaea) root sprouts with Imazapyr and Glyphosate. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Chaney, S. (2005). Balancing act: Managing non-native plants of historic landscapes within the natural landscapes of Channel Islands National Park. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Kelly, M. (1998). SWAT: Special weed action teams as abassadors for education and energy. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Roberts, J. R., S. Chaney, et al. (2005). Management of domestic olives on Santa Cruz Island in the Channel Islands National Park: Preventing development of an olive-dominated chaparral. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

olive (4)

Bell, C. E. and C. Bell (2003). Killing olive (Olea europaea) root sprouts with Imazapyr and Glyphosate. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Chaney, S. (2005). Balancing act: Managing non-native plants of historic landscapes within the natural landscapes of Channel Islands National Park. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Roberts, J. R., S. Chaney, et al. (2005). Management of domestic olives on Santa Cruz Island in the Channel Islands National Park: Preventing development of an olive-dominated chaparral. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

olive fruit fly (1)

Widmer, T. L., A. A. Kirk, et al. (2003). The European Biological Control Laboratory: Contributing to successful management of invasive species in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

onionweed (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). 2004 Cal-IPC Red Alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Onopordum acanthium (4)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Leavitt, J. R. and C. Piroso (2002). A brief overview of the California Dept. of Food and Agriculture's A-rated noxious weed education and eradication program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exoatic Pest Plant Council.

Onopordum illyricum (2)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exoatic Pest Plant Council.

Onopordum tauricum (2)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exoatic Pest Plant Council.

Opuntia (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

orchardgrass (1)

Corbin, J. D., M. Thomsen, et al. (2004). Out of the frying pan: Invasion of exotic perennial grasses in coastal prairies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Oryzopsis hymenoides (1)

Belnap, J. (2000). Soil consequences of Bromus tectorum invasion. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

osage orange (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

ox-eye daisy (2)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Oxalis corniculata (1)

Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

oxeye daisy (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

oxygen weed (1)

Anderson, L., K. Zaremba, et al. (2004). Aquatic working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pacific cordgrass (1)

Zaremba, K., P. R. Olofson, et al. (2003). Challenges of restoring native habitat in a Spartina alterniflora hybrid invaded ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

palms (1)

Kelly, M. (2006). Fifteen years later: What were we looking for and what did we get? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

pampas grass (3)

- Marchant, T., R. Hobbs, et al. (2006). Restoration of desert wetlands dominated by tamarisk and pampas grass. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Moore, K., G. Hayes, et al. (1995). Volunteers and long-term community support for effective pest plant control. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Okada, M., M. Lyle, et al. (2006). Molecular evidence supporting the horticultural origin of invasive jubata grass (Cortaderia jubata). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

pampasgrass (11)

- Chirman, D. (2000). Pampasgrass control in Goleta Slough, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Kelly, M. (2001). 10 years of CalEPPC. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Lambrinos, J. G. (2002). The creeping loss of California's once Widespread shrublands to pampasgrass and other aliens. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Lambrinos, J. G. (2004). A tale of two invaders: The dynamic history of pampas grass and jubata grass in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Martus, C., C. Schneider, et al. (2003). Volunteer efforts to educate and influence corporate America and local governments to stop selling and using pampasgrass (Cortaderia selloana) and other invasive non-native plants. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Okada, M., R. Ahmad, et al. (2004). Identifying origins and tracing spread of pampasgrass and jubatagrass in California by microsatellite markers. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Okada, M., R. Ahmad, et al. (2005). Identification of cultivated pampas grass (Cortaderia selloana) escaping ornamental plantings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Powers, J. (2005). Large scale pampas grass control program. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Tschohl, A. (2000). Jubatagrass vs pampasgrass: A growth analysis and comparison of invasive potential. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Panicum maximum (1)

- Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Panicum texanum (1)

- Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Papaver somniferum (1)

- Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Parentucellia latifolia (1)

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Parentucellia viscosa (2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

park (1)

Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.

Parkinsonia aculeata (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Parney's cotoneaster (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

parrot's feather (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

parrotfeather (1)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pascopyrum smithii (1)

Goodwin, K. (2005). Montana weed prevention areas: Partnerships for rangeland protection. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Passiflora mollissima (1)

Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Passiflora tarminiana (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). 2004 Cal-IPC Red Alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

peacock fly (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

pecan (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Peganum harmala (2)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pennisetum ciliare (5)

Brooks, M. L. and T. C. Esque (1999). Alien grasses in the Mojave and Sonoran deserts. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frtger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Northam, F. E. (2001). Invasive plant species management in Arizona. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests: How some exotic plants reached the American southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

West, P. (2001). Invasive species in northern Mexico. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pennisetum clandestinum (1)

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pennisetum setaceum (6)

Brooks, M. L. and T. C. Esque (1999). Alien grasses in the Mojave and Sonoran deserts. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frtger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Northam, F. E. (2001). Invasive plant species management in Arizona. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

pennyroyal (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

pennywort (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

pepperweed (2)

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

perennial (3)

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

perennial pepperweed (21)

Brigham, C. (2004). Towards eradication of Lepidium latifolium at Paramount Ranch: Control methods and a test of restoration treatments. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Etra, J. (2006). Tall whitetop control on the 102 Ranch and implications for other applications. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Giessow, J. and M. Newhowser (2004). Riparian working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hogle, I., J. H. Viers, et al. (2003). Spatial analysis of perennial pepperweed infestation in a seasonal floodplain. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hogle, I. B. and R. Waegell (2005). Perennial pepperweed control experiment at the Cosumnes River Preserve. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hogle, I. H., J. H. Viers, et al. (2004). Floodplain invasion: Tracking pepperweed expansion in the Cosumnes River. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pyke, D. A. (2000). The use of fire to control exotic plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Rogers, C. (2004). Distribution of perennial pepperweed in Bay-Delta wetlands: a CalFed mapping project. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Schoenig, S., D. DiPietro, et al. (2004). Mapping working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Spent, R. and T. C. Foin (2006). Is glyphosate a good choice for perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium) control in tidal wetlands in the San Francisco Estuary? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.
- Sperber, T. and F. T. Griggs (2005). Suppressing exotic weeds on restoration projects using an aggressive herbaceous understory. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Thomsen, C. D. (2000). Bear Creek watershed restoration program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Wilson, R., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2006). Integrated management strategies for perennial pepperweed. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '06. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

Perganum harmula (1)

- Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

periwinkle (4)

- Bossard, C., K. Moore, et al. (2005). A test of repeat flaming as a control for poison hemlock (Conium maculatum), Cape ivy (Delairia odorata), and periwinkle (Vinca major). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Peromyscus maniculatus catalinae (1)

- Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

perspective (1)

- Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

pest (26)

- Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.
- Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.
- Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
- Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.
- Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Plant Council: 63-64.

Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.

Deuser, C. (1998). Exotic plant control to preserve and restore riparian areas in numerous national park units. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 67-68.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.

Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.

Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

St. John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.

Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Phacelia ciliata(1)

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Phalaris aquatica (5)

Antonio, C. D. and J. Gerlach (2003). Annual grasses: Status of biology and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Corbin, J. D., M. Thomsen, et al. (2004). Out of the frying pan: Invasion of exotic perennial grasses in coastal prairies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Stafford, M., S. Farrell, et al. (2006). Control of Phalaris aquatica on lowland coastal terrace prairie in Richmond, CA. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Phalaris arundinacea (2)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and D. Salzer (2001). Integrated strategies for Phalaris arundinacea L. (reed canarygrass) control in Oregon. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Phoenix canariensis (1)

Kelly, M. (2001). Drilling as a technique for controlling eucalyptus, palms & other exotic trees. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Phragmites australis (2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Gedik, T. L. (2005). Phragmites australis in the Humboldt Bay region: Biology of an invasive species and opportunities for treatment. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Phragmites sp.(1)

Jackson, N. E. (1996). Control of exotic weeds with Roundup herbicide: A survey of projects around the world. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Physalis virginiana var. sonora (2)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Phytophthora ramorum (1)

Alexander, J. (2005). Beyond the Plantae: Commonalities in combating Phytophthora ramorum, cause of Sudden Oak Death, and other plant diseases. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

pickleweed (2)

Drennan, P. M. and L. Zakrzewski (2004). The effect of soil salinity and flooding on the growth Carpobrotus edulis (L.) N.B. Br.: Implications for its spread into the Ballona Wetlands. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Zaremba, K., P. R. Olofson, et al. (2003). Challenges of restoring native habitat in a Spartina alterniflora hybrid invaded ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

picolinic acid (2)

Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Piesma salsolae (2)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

pincushion flower (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

pineapple weed (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pinus banksiana (1)

Prasad, R. and S. Naurais (1999). Invasiveness of alien plants: Some aspects of the impact of scotch broom (Cytisus scoparius (L.) link) on Douglas-fir seedlings and its control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pinus edulis (1)

Brooks, M. (2001). Introduction and overview of invasive species in the southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pinus halepensis (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pinus pinea (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pinus ponderosa (1)

Keeley, J. E. (2004). Fire management impacts on invasive species at the wildland/urban interface in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pinus radiata (1)

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pinus spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

pinyon pine (1)

Brooks, M. (2001). Introduction and overview of invasive species in the southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Piptatherum miliaceum (4)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pistacia atlantica (2)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pistia stratiotes (1)

Chornesky, E. A. and C. M. Palmer (1995). Use of biologically based methods to control pest plants: Issues related to federal research, regulation, and implementation. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pittosporum tenuifolium (1)

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pittosporum undulatum (1)

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

plant (27)

- Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.
- Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.
- Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
- Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.
- Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.
- Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.
- Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.
- Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.
- Deuser, C. (1998). Exotic plant control to preserve and restore riparian areas in numerous national park units. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 67-68.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.
- DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.
- DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.
- Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.
- Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.
- Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.
- Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.
- Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.
- Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.
- Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.
- Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.
- Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.
- Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.
- St. John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.
- Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.
- Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.
- Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.
- Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

plant bug (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Platanus acerifolia (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Platanus occidentalis (1)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Plebejus icaroides missionensis (1)

Alvarez, M. and L. Ponzini (2003). Control of Ageratina adenophora in the Marin Headlands, Golden Gate National Recreation Area. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pluchea sericea (1)

Marchant, T., R. Hobbs, et al. (2006). Restoration of desert wetlands dominated by tamarisk and pampas grass. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

plumeless thistle (1)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Plutella(1)

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Poa pratensis (1)

Quinn, L., B. Davis, et al. (2006). Does horse manure harbor invasive plants? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Poaceae (2)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). Using a computer-based diagnostics program for the identification of weedy grasses. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Point Reyes bird's beak (1)

Tatum, E. R., P. Clifford, et al. (2005). Comparison of removal methods for Spartina densiflora in Humboldt Bay. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

poison hemlock (4)

Blumin, L. and D. Gluesenkamp (2002). Manual removal of cape ivy in volunteer canyon – Bolinas Lagoon Preserve, Audubon Canyon Ranch, Stinson Beach, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bossard, C., K. Moore, et al. (2005). A test of repeat flaming as a control for poison hemlock (Conium maculatum), Cape ivy (Delairia odorata), and periwinkle (Vinca major). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

poison oak (2)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

pokeweed (2)

Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

political (1)

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Polygonum aubertii (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Polygonum convolvulus (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Polygonum cuspidatum (3)

Crockett, R. P. and M. L. Krebsbach (2004). The new “JK Injection Tool” for control of knotweeds and other hollow-stem plants growing in sensitive wetland sites. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Polygonum polystachum (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Polygonum sachalinense (1)

Crockett, R. P. and M. L. Krebsbach (2004). The new “JK Injection Tool” for control of knotweeds and other hollow-stem plants growing in sensitive wetland sites. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Polygonum sachalinense (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Polyphylla barbata (1)

Horowitz, M. (2003). Alternatives to chemical stump treatment of Acacia dealbeta. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Polypogon maritimus (1)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Polypogon monspeliensis (5)

Bauder, E. T. (1996). Exotics in the southern California bernal pool ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Callaway, J. and J. Zedler (1996). Native and exotic species interactions in southern California salt marsh: Salicornia virginica and Polypogon monspeliensis. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

ponderosa pine (2)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Keeley, J. E. (2004). Fire management impacts on invasive species at the wildland/urban interface in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

poplar (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Populus balsamifera ssp. trichocarpa (1)

Coffman, G. C., T. Dudley, et al. (2005). Are we creating the ideal conditions for Arundo donax invasion in California? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Populus fremontii (3)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Stromberg, J., S. Lite, et al. (2003). Managing stream flow regimes for riparian ecosystem restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Populus spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Portuguese broom (1)

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Potamogeton crispus (1)

Anderson, L., K. Zaremba, et al. (2004). Aquatic working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Potentilla anserina (2)

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Potentilla recta(1)

Parks, C. G. (2006). Identifying research priorities and implementing science-based management. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

prescribed burning (1)

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

prickly lettuce (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Procambarus clarkii (1)

Kennedy, T. (2001). The impacts of a riparian invader, salt cedar (Tamarix ramosissima), on a stream food web. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Prosopis glandulosa (1)

Brooks, M. (2001). Introduction and overview of invasive species in the southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Prosopis juliflora (2)

El-Keblawy, A. (2002). Effects of the exotic Prosopis juliflora shrub on native flora and soil characters of the United Arab Emirates. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Seveneratne, I. (2000). Nature of the invasive species Prosopis juliflora in Sri Lanka. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Prosopis strombulifera (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

prune rootstock (1)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Prunus (1)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Prunus armeniaca (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Prunus cerasifera (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pseudorhynchus (1)

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Pseudoroegneria spicata (1)

Goodwin, K. (2005). Montana weed prevention areas: Partnerships for rangeland protection. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pseudotsuga (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pseudotsuga menziesii (1)

Prasad, R. and S. Naurais (1999). Invasiveness of alien plants: Some aspects of the impact of scotch broom (Cytisus scoparius (L.) link) on Douglas-fir seedlings and its control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Psidium guajava (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Psylliodes nr. chalconera (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Psylliodes sp. nr. chalconera (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

PTI (1)

Benefield, C. B. (1999). Private and public funding opportunities: Sources of funding for weed management programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Puccinia jaceae (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Puccinia jaceae var. solstitialis (2)

III, W. L. B., D. G. Luster, et al. (2004). Status of Puccinea jacea var. solstitialis in 2004 for biological control of yellow starthistle in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pueraria montana (1)

Westbrooks, R. G. (2001). Invasive species, coming to America: New strategies for biological protection through prescreening, early warning, and rapid response. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

pupfish (1)

Kennedy, T. (2001). The impacts of a riparian invader, salt cedar (Tamarix ramosissima), on a stream food web. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

purple loosestrife (6)

Benefield, C. (2000). Preventing the purple plague from taking over California's waterways. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Benefield, C. B. and D. Butler (2001). Purple loosestrife under siege in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Brown, W. Y. and A. G. Brown (1998). Campaign against invasive species: A call for action. California Exotic Pest Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Butler, D. and S. Schoenig (2002). Preventing the purple plague from taking over California's wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Westbrooks, R. G. (2001). Invasive species, coming to America: New strategies for biological protection through prescreening, early warning, and rapid response. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

purple needlegrass (2)

Marler, M. J. and R. M. Callaway (2000). Role of mycorrhizae in Centaurea invasions. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2002). Effect of competition on artichoke thistle, Cynara cardunculus. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

purple ragwort (1)

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

purple starthistle (3)

Gluesenkamp, D. (2003). Marin-Sonoma Weed Management Area: Putting the 'we' in weed management. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Young, J. A. and C. D. Clements (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

pyracantha (1)

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

quaking grass (1)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Quercus kelloggii (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Quercus lobata (2)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Quercus spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Quercus wislizenii (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Quino Checkerspot butterfly (1)

Marushia, R. G. and E. Allen (2006). Testing methods of weed management in the restoration of Riverside County old fields. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

rabbit brush (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

rabbit-foot grass (1)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

ragweed (2)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

rainfall (1)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Rana pipiens (1)

Trumbo, J. (2005). An assessment of the hazard of a mixture of the herbicide Rodeo® and the non-ionic surfactant R-11® to aquatic invertebrates and larval amphibians. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

range (1)

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

rangeland (4)

Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

Ranunculus bulbosus (1)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Raphanus sativus (2)

Maher, E. and E. Stanton (2005). Blurring edges: A test of weed control methods used along edges of sage scrub patches to encourage shrub colonization into abandoned agricultural fields. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Uschyk, K. L. and P. Slattery (2000). The use of native yellow lupines for controlling ripgut brome and radish. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

rattlebox (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

ravennagrass (2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

red brome (5)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Esque, T. (2001). How will a hotter, drier, and more variable climate affect invasives in the Mojave Desert? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ill, J. A. A. (2003). Atmospheric CO₂ influences on recovery potential. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Minnich, R. A. (2004). California's fading wildflower legacy. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, S. D. (2001). Effects of increased CO₂ and nitrogen deposition on desert invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Red gum (1)

Kelly, M. (2001). Drilling as a technique for controlling eucalyptus, palms & other exotic trees. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

red sesbania (4)

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

May, L., S. Lucas, et al. (2005). Dry Creek Watershed red sesbania control project - Initial successes and challenges. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Platenkamp, G. A. J. and J. C. Hunter (2003). Ecological and hydraulic effects of red sesbania (Sesbania punicea) invasion of riparian areas in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

red willow (1)

Coffman, G. C., T. Dudley, et al. (2005). Are we creating the ideal conditions for Arundo donax invasion in California? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

redwood (2)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.

reed canarygrass (2)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and D. Salzer (2001). Integrated strategies for Phalaris arundinacea L. (reed canarygrass) control in Oregon. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

reproduction (1)

DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.

reproductive (1)

DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.

reproductive biology (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.

research (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

reseeding (1)

Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.

restoration (3)

Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.

Retama monosperma (3)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

revegetation (1)

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

review (9)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2006). Invasive weeds from the nursery. 58: 83-85.

Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.
- Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.
- Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.
- Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

Rhamnus alaternus (2)

- Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Rhinichthys osculus nevadensis (1)

- Kennedy, T. (2001). The impacts of a riparian invader, salt cedar (Tamarix ramosissima), on a stream food web. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Rhinocylus conicus (1)

- Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

Rhynchelytrum repens (2)

- Brooks, M. L. and T. C. Esque (1999). Alien grasses in the Mojave and Sonoran deserts. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ricinus communis (4)

- Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
- Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Dickerson, E., C. Brigham, et al. (2004). Ecohelpers: Education and ecological restoration in Southern California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

riparian (4)

- Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.
- Deuser, C. (1998). Exotic plant control to preserve and restore riparian areas in numerous national park units. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 67-68.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.

ripgut brome (8)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Corbin, J. D., M. Thomsen, et al. (2004). Out of the frying pan: Invasion of exotic perennial grasses in coastal prairies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. (2003). Fire: Prescribed burning as a management tool. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Minnich, R. A. (2004). California's fading wildflower legacy. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Uschyk, K. L. and P. Slattery (2000). The use of native yellow lupines for controlling ripgut brome and radish. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

White, V. A. and J. S. Holt (2002). Effect of competition on artichoke thistle, Cynara cardunculus. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

risk (1)

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

river (1)

Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.

Robinia pseudoacacia (3)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Reichard, S. H. (1996). What traits distinguish invasive plants from non-invasive plants? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

root-crown weevil (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Rorippa sylvestris (2)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Rosa californica (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

rubber rabbitbrush (1)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Rubus armeniacus (1)

Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Rubus discolor (4)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lennox, M., D. Lewis, et al. (2006). Riparian revegetation outcomes on California north coast ranches. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ordóñez, L. (2003). Tilling shows promise for controlling Himalayan blackberry in Yosemite Valley (California). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Rubus parviflorus (1)

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Rubus sp. (1)

Jackson, N. E. (1996). Control of exotic weeds with Roundup herbicide: A survey of projects around the world. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Rubus spp. (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Rubus ulmifolius var. inermis (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Rubus ursinus (2)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California,

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

California Invasive Plant Council.

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Rumex acetosella (2)

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Quinn, L., B. Davis, et al. (2006). Does horse manure harbor invasive plants? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Rumex crispus(3)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests: How some exotic plants reached the American southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Rumex occidentalis (1)

Hillman, J. M. (1999). Potentially allelopathic effects of poison hemlock (Conium maculatum) on native plant revegetation at Wilder Ranch State Park. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

rush wheatgrass (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

rush-rose (1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Russian knapweed (4)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J. (2005). Preventing weed spread via contaminated hay and straw. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, R. L., V. F. Carrithers, et al. (2006). Managing rangeland invasive plants with Aminopyralid (Milestone™). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Russian olive (4)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Westbrooks, R. G. (2001). Invasive species, coming to America: New strategies for biological protection through prescreening, early warning, and rapid response. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Russian thistle (6)

Ayres, D., F. Ryan, et al. (2005). Tumbleweeds of California - Who, what, where, and how? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Blaaha, S., E. V. Owen, et al. (2000). Nonnative plants in two biological communities in the Tirari Desert of South Australia. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Etra, J. (2006). Tall whitetop control on the 102 Ranch and implications for other applications. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Smith, L., R. Sobhian, et al. (2006). Prospects for biological control of Russian thistle (tumbleweed). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

rust (3)

Ill, W. L. B., D. G. Luster, et al. (2004). Status of Puccinea jacea var. solstitialis in 2004 for biological control of yellow starthistle in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Saccharum ravennae (2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sacramento Valley and surrounding Sierra foothills (1)

Knapp, E. E. and K. J. Rice (1997). Ecotypes of native species: How local is local in restoration plantings? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

sage scrub (1)

Cox, R. and E. B. Allen (2001). Managing annual weeds in coastal sage scrub: What works? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

sagebrush (2)

Brooks, M. (2001). Introduction and overview of invasive species in the southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Dicus, C. A. (2004). Benefits versus fire risk of native and invasive vegetation in the wildland-urban interface.

California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sahara mustard (2)

Northam, F. E. (2001). Invasive plant species management in Arizona. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Salicornia virginica (4)

Callaway, J. and J. Zedler (1996). Native and exotic species interactions in southern California salt marsh: Salicornia virginica and Polypogon monspeliensis. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Drennan, P. M. and L. Zakrzewski (2004). The effect of soil salinity and flooding on the growth Carpobrotus edulis (L.) N.B. Br.: Implications for its spread into the Ballona Wetlands. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Zaremba, K., P. R. Olofson, et al. (2003). Challenges of restoring native habitat in a Spartina alterniflora hybrid invaded ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

salinity (2)

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.

Salix (2)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Salix exigua (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Salix gooddingii (1)

Stromberg, J., S. Lite, et al. (2003). Managing stream flow regimes for riparian ecosystem restoration.

California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Salix goodingii (1)

Quinn, L. and J. Holt (2003). Invasibility of experimental riparian communities by Arundo donax. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Salix laevigata (2)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Coffman, G. C., T. Dudley, et al. (2005). Are we creating the ideal conditions for Arundo donax invasion in California? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Salix lasiolepis(1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Salix lucida (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Salix spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

salsify (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Salsola australis (1)

Bainbridge, D. A. (1996). The tumbleweed cnetennial in the Antelope Valley, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Salsola collina (1)

Ryan, F. J., D. R. Ayres, et al. (1999). There's more to tumbleweed (Russian thistle) than meets the eye. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Salsola kali (3)

Bainbridge, D. A. (1996). The tumbleweed cnetennial in the Antelope Valley, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Blaha, S., E. V. Owen, et al. (2000). Nonnative plants in two biological communities in the Tirari Desert of South Australia. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests:How some exotic plants reached the American southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Salsola kali ssp.pontica (1)

Ryan, F. J., D. R. Ayres, et al. (1999). There's more to tumbleweed (Russian thistle) than meets the eye. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Salsola paulsenii (2)

Ayres, D., F. Ryan, et al. (2005). Tumbleweeds of California - Who, what, where, and how? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Ryan, F. J., D. R. Ayres, et al. (1999). There's more to tumbleweed (Russian thistle) than meets the eye. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Salsola pestifer (1)

Ryan, F. J., D. R. Ayres, et al. (1999). There's more to tumbleweed (Russian thistle) than meets the eye. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Salsola soda (1)

Ryan, F. J., D. R. Ayres, et al. (1999). There's more to tumbleweed (Russian thistle) than meets the eye. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Salsola tragus (10)

Ayres, D., F. Ryan, et al. (2005). Tumbleweeds of California - Who, what, where, and how? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bainbridge, D. A. (1996). The tumbleweed centennial in the Antelope Valley, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Etra, J. (2006). Tall whitetop control on the 102 Ranch and implications for other applications. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Gerlach, J. D. (1997). How the west was lost: Reconstructing the invasion dynamics of yellow star-thistle and other plant invaders of western rangelands and natural areas. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97.

Ryan, F. J., D. R. Ayres, et al. (1999). There's more to tumbleweed (Russian thistle) than meets the eye. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Smith, L., R. Sobhian, et al. (2006). Prospects for biological control of Russian thistle (tumbleweed). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Salsola vermiculata (3)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ryan, F. J., D. R. Ayres, et al. (1999). There's more to tumbleweed (Russian thistle) than meets the eye. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Salsola morgei (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

salt (3)

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Plant Council: 32-41.

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.

salt cedar (1)

Kelly, M. (2006). Fifteen years later: What were we looking for and what did we get? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

salt grass (3)

Drennan, P. M. and L. Zakrzewski (2004). The effect of soil salinity and flooding on the growth Carpobrotus edulis (L.) N.B. Br.: Implications for its spread into the Ballona Wetlands. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Zaremba, K., P. R. Olofson, et al. (2003). Challenges of restoring native habitat in a Spartina alterniflora hybrid invaded ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

saltcedar (39)

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

Bell, C. (1998). Risks and effects of various control methods. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Brooks, M. (2001). Introduction and overview of invasive species in the southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Carruthers, R., G. Anderson, et al. (2003). The use of remote sensing to assess biological control impact on saltcedar in Nevada. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Chavez, R. A. (1996). Integrated weed management: concept and practice. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DeGouvenain, R. (1996). Origin, history, and current range of saltcedar in the U.S. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

DeGouvenain, R. and B. West (1996). Partnerships and volunteers for control of saltcedar. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

DeLoach, C. J., M. Pitcairn, et al. (1996). Biological control of saltcedar in southern California. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

Deuser, C. E. (1996). Decision criteria for developing saltcedar management plans. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

Deuser, C. E. (1996). Saltcedar management: A success story. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA.

DiTomaso, J. (1996). Identification, biology, and ecology of saltcedar. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

Duncan, K. W. (1998). Spring Lake - A New Mexico case study in saltcedar management. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Egan, T. B. (1996). An approach to site restoration and maintenance for saltcedar control. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Faull, M. R. (1998). Tamarisk eradication at Red Rock Canyon State Park Mojave Desert, California. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Frandsen, P. (1998). The political side of exotic pest plants. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Frandsen, P. and N. E. Jackson (1998). Santa Ana River Interagency Habitat Recovery Project, Van Buren Bridge Project Area summary. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Jackson, N. E. (1996). Chemical control of saltcedar (Tamarix ramosissima). Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- Jackson, N. E. (1998). Chemical control of giant reed (Arundo donax) and saltcedar (Tamarix ramosissima). Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Jackson, N. E. and C. Bell (1996). Obtaining the right permits. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- Kelly, M. (2001). 10 years of CalEPPC. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Kennedy, T. (2001). The impacts of a riparian invader, salt cedar (Tamarix ramosissima), on a stream food web. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Klassen, L. (2001). Sierra Club volunteers eradicate Tamarix ramosissima (tamarisk, saltcedar) in sensitive habitats in Anza Borrego State Park. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Lair, K. D. and S. L. Wynn (2001). Experimental revegetation strategies and technologies for restoration of native shrub/grass on salt cedar infestation sites. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Lair, K. D. and S. L. Wynn (2003). Experimental revegetation strategies and technologies for restoration of native shrub/grass communities on saltcedar (Tamarix spp.) infestation sites. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Lovich, J. E. (1996). A brief overview of the impact of tamarisk infestation on native plants and animals. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA.
- Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.
- Martin, S., M. C. Jorgensen, et al. (2001). Tamarisk (Tamarix spp.) control and management at Anza-Borrego Desert State Park, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Neill, B. (1996). Guidelines for recruiting volunteers. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- Rustin, M. and S. Cliff (1998). Bylas Springs: Tamarix pentandra removal and revegetation project. Arundo and tamarisk: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Stein, E. D. (1996). Invasive weed control and the need for serious section 404 Clean Water Act permits: The dual role of the Army Corps of Engineers. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA.
- Stein, E. D. (1998). Invasive weed control as mitigation: A shifting paradigm. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Tracy, J. L. and C. J. DeLoach (1998). Biological controls of saltcedar in the United States: Progress and projected ecological effects. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Vartanian, V. (1998). Destructive nature of arundo and tamarisk. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Weisenborn, W. D. (1996). Saltcedar impacts on salinity, water, fire frequency, and flooding. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA.
- Westbrooks, R. G. (2001). Invasive species, coming to America: New strategies for biological protection through prescreening, early warning, and rapid response. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Widmer, T. L., A. A. Kirk, et al. (2003). The European Biological Control Laboratory: Contributing to successful management of invasive species in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Zemal, R. (1998). Habitat for threatened and endangered species: Quarantine areas of control exotic weeds? Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Seveneratne, I. (2000). Nature of the invasive species Prosopis juliflora in Sri Lanka. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Salvia virgata (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Salvinia molesta (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sambucus racemosa (1)

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

San Diego ambrosia (1)

Maher, E. and E. Stanton (2006). Response of the endangered San Diego ambrosia (Ambrosia pumila) to removal of competition from non-native plants. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

San Diego thornmint (1)

Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

San Francisco Bay area (1)

Grimm, C. L. (1997). Engaging inner-city youth in urban habitat restoration. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Sanguisorba spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Santa Catalina Island deer mouse (1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Santa Catalina Island fox (1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Santa Cruz Island rock cress (1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Santa Cruz mountains (1)

Moore, K., G. Hayes, et al. (1995). Volunteers and long-term community support for effective pest plant control. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Sapium sebiferum (4)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Scabiosa atropurpurea (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

scarlet wisteria (2)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Schinus molle (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Schinus polygamus (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Schinus terebinthifolia(1)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Schinus terebinthifolius (2)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Kelly, M. (2001). Drilling as a technique for controlling eucalyptus, palms & other exotic trees. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Schismus (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Schismus arabicus (2)

Brooks, M. L. and T. C. Esque (1999). Alien grasses in the Mojave and Sonoran deserts. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frtger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Schismus barbatus (5)

Brooks, M. L. and T. C. Esque (1999). Alien grasses in the Mojave and Sonoran deserts. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frtger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Minnich, R. A. (1994). Effects of exotic plants on three California ecosystems. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '94. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 2: 5-6.

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

Minnich, R. A. (2004). California's fading wildflower legacy. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Schismus spp. (1)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Scirpus (2)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Scirpus acutus(1)

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Scirpus americanus (2)

Quinn, L. and J. Holt (2003). Invasibility of experimental riparian communities by Arundo donax. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Scolymus hispanicus (2)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Scotch broom (8)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Alexander, J. M. F. and C. M. D'Antonio (2000). Factors affecting successful control of French and Scotch broom and restoration of native communities in coastal California grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Corbin, J. D. and C. M. D'Antonio (2003). Too much of a good thing: Restoration of native biodiversity following soil nitrogen enrichment. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Oneto, S., J. M. DiTomaso, et al. (2005). Control of Scotch broom (Cytisus scoparius). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.

Scotch pine (1)

- Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Scotch thistle (2)

- Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Leavitt, J. R. and C. Piroso (2002). A brief overview of the California Dept. of Food and Agriculture's A-rated noxious weed education and eradication program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Scrophularia anglica (1)

- Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

sea-fig (1)

- DiTomaso, J., A. Stanton, et al. (2005). Invasive Plant Inventory ("weed list") working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

season (1)

- DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.

seed (1)

- Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

seed and stem moth (1)

- Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

seed germination (1)

Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

seedhead weevil (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Senecio elegans (1)

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Senecio jacobaea (1)

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Senecio mikanioides (2)

Alvarez, M. E. (1997). Management of cape-ivy (Delairea odorata) in the Golden Gate National Recreation Area. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Senecio spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Senna didymobotrya (1)

Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sequoia (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Sequoiadendron (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

service berry (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Sesbania punicea (8)

- Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- May, L., S. Lucas, et al. (2005). Dry Creek Watershed red sesbania control project - Initial successes and challenges. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Platenkamp, G. A. J. and J. C. Hunter (2003). Ecological and hydraulic effects of red sesbania (Sesbania punicea) invasion of riparian areas in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

sheep (2)

- Ghalambor, K. (2002). Alternative bedding sites for grazing sheep on Ft. Ord. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

shining geranium (1)

- DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

shrub (5)

- Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.
- Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.
- Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.
- Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.
- Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.

Sibara filifolia (1)

- Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sida spinosa (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

sideblotched alligator lizard (1)

Gibson, J. K. (2000). The presence of fennel affects the distribution of lizards on Santa Cruz Island. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Silene gallica (1)

Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

silver hair grass (1)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

silver lace vine(2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

silver maple (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Silybum marianum (1)

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

Sisymbrium erysimoides (3)

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sisymbrium irio (2)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sisymbrium spp. (2)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

site (1)

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Siteroptes (1)

Kirk, A. A., T. Widmer, et al. (2003). The potential contribution of natural enemies from Mediterranean Europe to the management of the invasive weed Arundo donax (Graminae; Arundinae) in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

slender false brome (1)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

slender wild oat (3)

Corbin, J. D., M. Thomsen, et al. (2004). Out of the frying pan: Invasion of exotic perennial grasses in coastal prairies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Maher, E. and E. Stanton (2005). Blurring edges: A test of weed control methods used along edges of sage scrub patches to encourage shrub colonization into abandoned agricultural fields. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Minnich, R. A. (2004). California's fading wildflower legacy. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

SLUG (1)

Grimm, C. L. (1997). Engaging inner-city youth in urban habitat restoration. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Corcord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

small burnet (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

small flowered lotus (1)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smilacina racemosa (1)

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

smilgrass (3)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

smooth cordgrass (1)

Blair M.D., C. E. (2006). Invasive aquatic weeds: Implications for mosquito and vector management activities. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

snowdrop bush (1)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Solanum aviculare (1)

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Solanum cardiophyllum (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Solanum carolinense (1)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Solanum dimidiatum (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Solanum seaforthianum (1)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Frilger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Solanum spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Solanum viarum (1)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Invasive Plant Council.

solstitialis (2)

DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.

Sonchus arvensis (2)

O'Connell, R. A. (1997). Hydrilla: A case study: The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Sonchus asper(1)

Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests:How some exotic plants reached the American southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Sonchus oleraceus (2)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Friger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Sonchus spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Sorghum halapense (2)

Devender, T. R. V., R. S. Friger, et al. (1997). Exotic plants in the Sonoran desert region, Arizona and Sonora. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests:How some exotic plants reached the American southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Sorghum halepense (1)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

southern alligator lizard (1)

Gibson, J. K. (2000). The presence of fennel affects the distribution of lizards on Santa Cruz Island. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

southwest (1)

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

sow thistle (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Spanish broom (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Spartina (2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Grijalva, E. (2006). Spartina control in the San Francisco Estuary: Progress toward estuary-wide control and eradication. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Spartina alterniflora (16)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Anderson, L., K. Zaremba, et al. (2004). Aquatic working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ayres, D. R., D. L. Smith, et al. (2002). Spread of exotic cordgrasses and hybrids (Spartina sp.) in the tidal marshes of San Francisco Bay. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Blair M.D., C. E. (2006). Invasive aquatic weeds: Implications for mosquito and vector management activities. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Brownfield, N. (1998). Eradication of exotic Spartina in San Francisco Bay. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Jackson, N. E. (1996). Control of exotic weeds with Roundup herbicide: A survey of projects around the world. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Kelly, M. (1998). SWAT: Special weed action teams as ambassadors for education and energy. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Nordby, J. C., A. N. Cohen, et al. (2004). Behavioral responses of birds to invasive spartina in San Francisco Bay salt marshes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sloop, C. M., D. R. Ayres, et al. (2004). Invasive hybrid cordgrass (Spartina alterniflora x S. foliosa) recruitment dynamics in open mudflats of San Francisco Bay. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sloop, C. M., D. R. Ayres, et al. (2006). Self-fertilizing cordgrass hybrids (Spartina alterniflora x S. foliosa) drive local invasion of San Francisco Bay tidal flats. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, D., S. Klohr, et al. (2002). Introduced Spartina in San Francisco Bay: 2000-2001 Survey and Findings, San Francisco Estuary Invasive Spartina Project. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Smith, D., S. Klohr, et al. (2001). Introduced Spartina in San Francisco Bay: 2000-2001 survey and findings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Zaremba, K. (2005). 2004 Invasive Spartina Project monitoring program. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Zaremba, K., M. McGowan, et al. (2004). 2003 Invasive Spartina Project Monitoring Program. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Zaremba, K., P. R. Olofson, et al. (2003). Challenges of restoring native habitat in a Spartina alterniflora hybrid invaded ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Spartina angelica (1)

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Spartina anglica (3)

Ayres, D. R., D. L. Smith, et al. (2002). Spread of exotic cordgrasses and hybrids (Spartina sp.) in the tidal marshes of San Francisco Bay. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Jackson, N. E. (1996). Control of exotic weeds with Roundup herbicide: A survey of projects around the world. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Smith, D., S. Klohr, et al. (2002). Introduced Spartina in San Francisco Bay: 2000-2001 Survey and Findings, San Francisco Estuary Invasive Spartina Project. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Spartina densiflor (1)

DiGirolamo, L. (2006). Invasive species removal in an urban environment: Pitfalls and lessons learned. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Spartina densiflora (7)

Anderson, L., K. Zaremba, et al. (2004). Aquatic working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ayres, D. R., D. L. Smith, et al. (2002). Spread of exotic cordgrasses and hybrids (Spartina sp.) in the tidal marshes of San Francisco Bay. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, D., S. Klohr, et al. (2002). Introduced Spartina in San Francisco Bay: 2000-2001 Survey and Findings, San Francisco Estuary Invasive Spartina Project. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Tatum, E. R., P. Clifford, et al. (2005). Comparison of removal methods for Spartina densiflora in Humboldt Bay. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Zaremba, K., M. McGowan, et al. (2004). 2003 Invasive Spartina Project Monitoring Program. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Spartina foliosa (7)

Ayres, D. R., D. L. Smith, et al. (2002). Spread of exotic cordgrasses and hybrids (Spartina sp.) in the tidal marshes of San Francisco Bay. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Sloop, C. M., D. R. Ayres, et al. (2004). Invasive hybrid cordgrass (Spartina alterniflora x S. foliosa) recruitment dynamics in open mudflats of San Francisco Bay. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Sloop, C. M., D. R. Ayres, et al. (2006). Self-fertilizing cordgrass hybrids (Spartina alterniflora x S. foliosa) drive local invasion of San Francisco Bay tidal flats. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, D., S. Klohr, et al. (2002). Introduced Spartina in San Francisco Bay: 2000-2001 Survey and Findings, San Francisco Estuary Invasive Spartina Project. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Smith, D., S. Klohr, et al. (2001). Introduced Spartina in San Francisco Bay: 2000-2001 survey and findings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Zaremba, K., P. R. Olofson, et al. (2003). Challenges of restoring native habitat in a Spartina alterniflora hybrid invaded ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Spartina patens (3)

Ayres, D. R., D. L. Smith, et al. (2002). Spread of exotic cordgrasses and hybrids (Spartina sp.) in the tidal marshes of San Francisco Bay. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Smith, D., S. Klohr, et al. (2002). Introduced Spartina in San Francisco Bay: 2000-2001 Survey and Findings, San Francisco Estuary Invasive Spartina Project. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Spartina spp. (1)

DiGirolamo, L. (2006). Invasive species removal in an urban environment: Pitfalls and lessons learned. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Spartium junceum (2)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Spartium juncium (1)

Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.

speckled dace (1)

Kennedy, T. (2001). The impacts of a riparian invader, salt cedar (Tamarix ramosissima), on a stream food web. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Sphaerophysa salsula (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

spotted knapweed (18)

Brucker, P. (2002). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Brucker, P. (2003). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program for 2003. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Council, S. R. R. (2002). Determining the effectiveness of eradicating Centaurea maculosa from the Salmon River wildland ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Goodwin, K. (2005). Montana weed prevention areas: Partnerships for rangeland protection. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Knight, M. and S. Orloff (2006). Successful non-chemical management of spotted knapweed through partnership. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Leavitt, J. R. and C. Pirosko (2002). A brief overview of the California Dept. of Food and Agriculture's A-rated noxious weed education and eradication program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Marler, M. J. and R. M. Callaway (2000). Role of mycorrhizae in Centaurea invasions. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Melbourne, B., A. Hollander, et al. (2004). Integrating ecological, social, and economic perspectives on the spread of invasive species. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Norgaard, K. M. (2003). Community responses to spotted knapweed: A sociological view. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pitcairn, M. (1993). Introduction and distribution of biological control agents against exotic weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 9.
- Smith, R. L., V. F. Carrithers, et al. (2006). Managing rangeland invasive plants with Aminopyralid (Milestone™). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Young, J. A. and C. D. Clements (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

spread (2)

- Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.
- Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.

squarrose knapweed (1)

- Young, J. A. and C. D. Clements (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

St. John's wort(3)

- Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Kirk, A. A., T. Widmer, et al. (2003). The potential contribution of natural enemies from Mediterranean Europe to the management of the invasive weed Arundo donax (Graminae; Arundinae) in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Stachys chamissonis (1)

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

State Park (1)

Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.

stem weevil (1)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

stinkwort (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). 2004 Cal-IPC Red Alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Stipa capensis (2)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Streptanthus albidus var. peramoenus (1)

Green, A. R. (2004). Are exotic species shrinking serpentine refugia for native plants? The case of a rare annual jewelflower in Santa Clara County, CA. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Styrax officinalis (1)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Suaeda moquinii (1)

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

sudden oak death (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Alexander, J. (2005). Beyond the Plantae: Commonalities in combating Phytophthora ramorum, cause of Sudden Oak Death, and other plant diseases. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

sunflower (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Sus scrofa (1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

sustainability (1)

Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.

Sylibum marianum (1)

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: Biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

symposium (27)

Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.

Deuser, C. (1998). Exotic plant control to preserve and restore riparian areas in numerous national park units. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 67-68.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario,

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.

Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly.

Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Minnich, R. A. (1995). Fire ecology of exotic grasses in the California desert. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 61-62.

Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.

Pitcairn, M. J. and D. M. Woods (1998). Control methods: biological control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 1998. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 29-33.

Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.

Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.

Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.

St. John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.

Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.

Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.

Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.

Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

systematic (1)

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

systematics (1)

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Taeniatherum caput-medusae (9)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Coppoletta, M. (2006). Testing the effects of flaming as a method of medusahead (Taeniatherum caput- medusae) control on the Plumas National Forest. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

DiTomaso, J. (2003). Fire: Prescribed burning as a management tool. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (2001). Integrated management of yellow starthistle and medusahead using prescribed burning and clopyralid. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pushnik, J., J. W. Hunt, et al. (2005). Experimental herbaceous restoration and noxious weed mitigation at the California Department of Fish and Game 217's Butler Slough Ecological Reserve, Eastern Tehama County. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pyke, D. A. (2000). The use of fire to control exotic plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D. (2000). Bear Creek watershed restoration program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tagetes minuta (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

tall fescue (3)

Antonio, C. D. and J. Gerlach (2003). Annual grasses: Status of biology and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Corbin, J. D., M. Thomsen, et al. (2004). Out of the frying pan: Invasion of exotic perennial grasses in coastal prairies. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

tall wheatgrass (2)

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

tall whitetop (5)

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Etra, J. (2006). Tall whitetop control on the 102 Ranch and implications for other applications. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Giessow, J. and M. Newhowser (2004). Riparian working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hogle, I. B. and R. Waegell (2005). Perennial pepperweed control experiment at the Cosumnes River Preserve. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Peters, S., J. Etra, et al. (2003). Tall whitetop eradication and native plant community restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

tamarisk (41)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Bell, C. (1998). Risks and effects of various control methods. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Benefield, C. B. (1999). Private and public funding opportunities: Sources of funding for weed management programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Brooks, M. (2001). Introduction and overview of invasive species in the southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Carruthers, R., G. Anderson, et al. (2003). The use of remote sensing to assess biological control impact on saltcedar in Nevada. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Chavez, R. A. (1996). Integrated weed management: concept and practice. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- DeGouvenain, R. (1996). Origin, history, and current range of saltcedar in the U.S. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- DeGouvenain, R. and B. West (1996). Partnerships and volunteers for control of saltcedar. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- DeLoach, C. J., M. Pitcairn, et al. (1996). Biological control of saltcedar in southern California. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- Deuser, C. E. (1996). Decision criteria for developing saltcedar management plans. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- Deuser, C. E. (1996). Saltcedar management: A success story. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA.
- DiTomaso, J. (1996). Identification, biology, and ecology of saltcedar. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Duncan, K. W. (1998). Spring Lake - A New Mexico case study in saltcedar management. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Egan, T. B. (1996). An approach to site restoration and maintenance for saltcedar control. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- Faull, M. R. (1998). Tamarisk eradication at Red Rock Canyon State Park Mojave Desert, California. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Fitch, M. T. and D. Bieber (2004). The riparian weed management program at Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton: Past, present, and future. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Frandsen, P. (1998). The political side of exotic pest plants. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Frandsen, P. and N. E. Jackson (1998). Santa Ana River Interagency Habitat Recovery Project, Van Buren Bridge Project Area summary. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Giessow, J. and M. Newhowser (2004). Riparian working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Jackson, N. E. (1996). Chemical control of saltcedar (Tamarix ramosissima). Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- Jackson, N. E. (1998). Chemical control of giant reed (Arundo donax) and saltcedar (Tamarix ramosissima). Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Jackson, N. E. and C. Bell (1996). Obtaining the right permits. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- Kelly, M. (2001). 10 years of CalEPPC. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Klassen, L. (2001). Sierra Club volunteers eradicate Tamarix ramosissima (tamarisk, saltcedar) in sensitive habitats in Anza Borrego State Park. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Lovich, J. E. (1996). A brief overview of the impact of tamarisk infestation on native plants and animals. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA.
- Marchant, T., R. Hobbs, et al. (2006). Restoration of desert wetlands dominated by tamarisk and pampas grass. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Martin, S., M. C. Jorgensen, et al. (2001). Tamarisk (Tamarix spp.) control and management at Anza-Borrego Desert State Park, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Neill, B. (1996). Guidelines for recruiting volunteers. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- Rustin, M. and S. Cliff (1998). Bylas Springs: Tamarix pentandra removal and revegetation project. Arundo and tamarisk: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Stein, E. D. (1996). Invasive weed control and the need for serious section 404 Clean Water Act permits: The dual role of the Army Corps of Engineers. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA.
- Stein, E. D. (1998). Invasive weed control as mitigation: A shifting paradigm. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Stromberg, J., S. Lite, et al. (2003). Managing stream flow regimes for riparian ecosystem restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Thomsen, C. D. (2000). Bear Creek watershed restoration program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Tracy, J. L. and C. J. DeLoach (1998). Biological controls of saltcedar in the United States: Progress and projected ecological effects. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Vartanian, V. (1998). Destructive nature of arundo and tamarisk. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Weisenborn, W. D. (1996). Saltcedar impacts on salinity, water, fire frequency, and flooding. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA.
- West, P. (2001). Invasive species in northern Mexico. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Widmer, T. L., A. A. Kirk, et al. (2003). The European Biological Control Laboratory: Contributing to successful management of invasive species in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Zemal, R. (1998). Habitat for threatened and endangered species: Quarantine areas of control exotic weeds? Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Tamarix (11)

- Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.
- Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
- Brooks, M. (2001). Introduction and overview of invasive species in the southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Fitch, M. T. and D. Bieber (2004). The riparian weed management program at Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton: Past, present, and future. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Kelly, M. (2001). 10 years of CalEPPC. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Lair, K. D. and S. L. Wynn (2001). Experimental revegetation strategies and technologies for restoration of native shrub/grass on salt cedar infestation sites. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Lair, K. D. and S. L. Wynn (2003). Experimental revegetation strategies and technologies for restoration of native shrub/grass communities on saltcedar (Tamarix spp.) infestation sites. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Martin, S., M. C. Jorgensen, et al. (2001). Tamarisk (Tamarix spp.) control and management at Anza-Borrego Desert State Park, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Neill, B. (1998). Recent advances on the tamarisk front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pitcairn, M. (1998). Biocontrol of Tamarisk. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tamarix aphylla (4)

Barnes, P., E. Powell, et al. (2001). Tamarix aphylla: An invasive threat in the desert southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Humphries, S. E. (1996). Australian national weeds strategy: What are the lessons? California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Tamarix canariensis (1)

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Tamarix chinensis (2)

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Westbrooks, R. G. (2001). Invasive species, coming to America: New strategies for biological protection through prescreening, early warning, and rapid response. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tamarix chinensis spp. (1)

Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests: How some exotic plants reached the American southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tamarix gallica (1)

Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests: How some exotic plants reached the American southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tamarix parviflora (5)

Carruthers, R., G. Anderson, et al. (2003). The use of remote sensing to assess biological control impact on saltcedar in Nevada. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Thomsen, C. D. (2000). Bear Creek watershed restoration program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tamarix pentandra (2)

Rustin, M. and S. Cliff (1998). Bylas Springs: Tamarix pentandra removal and revegetation project. Arundo and tamarisk: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests: How some exotic plants reached the American southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tamarix ramosissima (38)

Bell, C. (1998). Risks and effects of various control methods. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Carruthers, R., G. Anderson, et al. (2003). The use of remote sensing to assess biological control impact on saltcedar in Nevada. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Chavez, R. A. (1996). Integrated weed management: concept and practice. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DeGouvenain, R. (1996). Origin, history, and current range of saltcedar in the U.S. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

DeGouvenain, R. and B. West (1996). Partnerships and volunteers for control of saltcedar. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

DeLoach, C. J., M. Pitcairn, et al. (1996). Biological control of saltcedar in southern California. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

Deuser, C. E. (1996). Decision criteria for developing saltcedar management plans. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

Deuser, C. E. (1996). Saltcedar management: A success story. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA.

DiTomaso, J. (1996). Identification, biology, and ecology of saltcedar. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Duncan, K. W. (1998). Spring Lake - A New Mexico case study in saltcedar management. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Egan, T. B. (1996). An approach to site restoration and maintenance for saltcedar control. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

Faull, M. R. (1998). Tamarisk eradication at Red Rock Canyon State Park Mojave Desert, California. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Frandsen, P. (1998). The political side of exotic pest plants. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Frandsen, P. and N. E. Jackson (1998). Santa Ana River Interagency Habitat Recovery Project, Van Buren Bridge Project Area summary. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Jackson, N. E. (1996). Chemical control of saltcedar (Tamarix ramosissima). Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.

Jackson, N. E. (1996). Control of exotic weeds with Roundup herbicide: A survey of projects around the world. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Jackson, N. E. (1998). Chemical control of giant reed (Arundo donax) and saltcedar (Tamarix ramosissima). Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Jackson, N. E. and C. Bell (1996). Obtaining the right permits. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- Kelly, M. (1998). SWAT: Special weed action teams as abassadors for education and energy. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Kennedy, T. (2001). The impacts of a riparian invader, salt cedar (Tamarix ramosissima), on a stream food web. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Klassen, L. (2001). Sierra Club volunteers eradicate Tamarix ramosissima (tamarisk, saltcedar) in sensitive habitats in Anza Borrego State Park. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Lovich, J. E. (1996). A brief overview of the impact of tamarisk infestation on native plants and animals. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA.
- Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.
- Neill, B. (1996). Guidelines for recruiting volunteers. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA, UC Cooperative Extension and CalEPPC.
- Stein, E. D. (1996). Invasive weed control and the need for serious section 404 Clean Water Act permits: The dual role of the Army Corps of Engineers. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA.
- Stein, E. D. (1998). Invasive weed control as mitigation: A shifting paradigm. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Stromberg, J., S. Lite, et al. (2003). Managing stream flow regimes for riparian ecosystem restoration. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Tellman, B. (1996). Stowaways and invited guests: How some exotic plants reached the American southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Tracy, J. L. and C. J. DeLoach (1998). Biological controls of saltcedar in the United States: Progress and projected ecological effects. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Vartanian, V. (1998). Destructive nature of arundo and tamarisk. Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.
- Weisenborn, W. D. (1996). Saltcedar impacts on salinity, water, fire frequency, and flooding. Saltcedar Management Workshop. Rancho Mirage, CA.
- West, P. (2001). Invasive species in northern Mexico. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Zemba, R. (1998). Habitat for threatened and endangered species: Quarantine areas of control exotic weeds? Arundo and saltcedar: The deadly duo. Ontario, CA.

Tamarix sp. (1)

- Bell, C. E. (1997). Using Arsenal for brushy species control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tamarix spp. (6)

- Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.
- Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Dudley, T. L., P. Dalin, et al. (2006). Progress and regress in the biological control of tamarisk in California. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Marchant, T., R. Hobbs, et al. (2006). Restoration of desert wetlands dominated by tamarisk and pampas grass. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tamarix ssp. (2)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Barrows, C. W. (1996). Tamarisk control and common sense. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Donaldson, S. G. (1997). Flood-borne noxious weeds: Impacts on riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tamarix usneoides (1)

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Taraxacum officinale (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tasmanian blue gum (1)

Horowitz, M. (2003). Alternatives to chemical stump treatment of Acacia dealbeta. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

teasel (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

technique (1)

Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.

Tephridid (1)

Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tetramesa romana (2)

Kirk, A. A., T. Widmer, et al. (2003). The potential contribution of natural enemies from Mediterranean Europe to the management of the invasive weed Arundo donax (Graminae; Arundinae) in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Lambert, A. and T. Dudley (2006). Potential for augmentation biological control of Arundo donax. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Texas needle-grass (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

thimbleberry (1)

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Thistles (1)

Brown, W. Y. and A. G. Brown (1998). Campaign against invasive species: A call for action. California Exotic Pest Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

thornless blackberry (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

three-corner leek (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

timing (1)

Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.

Tingis grisea (2)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

tocalote (3)

Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoidea ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Marler, M. J. and R. M. Callaway (2000). Role of mycorrhizae in Centaurea invasions. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Torilis arvensis (1)

Oneto, S., J. M. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Control of hedge parsley (Torilis arvensis). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Toxicodendron diversilobum (3)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

toyon (1)

Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tragopon spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Trapa natans (1)

Anderson, L., K. Zaremba, et al. (2004). Aquatic working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

tree of heaven (7)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. and G. Kyser (2002). Trial of several herbicides and application techniques for control of Ailanthus altissima, Upper Putah Creek, Yolo County. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Kelly, M. (2001). Results of basal bark application of Garlon4 on Ailanthus altissima (tree of heaven). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

tree tobacco (2)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Oneto, S., J. M. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Control of tree tobacco (Nicotiana glauca). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Tribolium oblitterum (1)

Delgado, B. (2003). BLM's integrated weed management program at Ford Ord, Monterey, California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

triclopyr (2)

Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Trifolium hirtum (2)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Quinn, L., B. Davis, et al. (2006). Does horse manure harbor invasive plants? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Trifolium spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Trifolium subterraneum (2)

DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Thomsen, C. D., W. A. Williams, et al. (1996). Yellow starthistle management with grazing, mowing, and competitive plantings. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Trifolium tridentatum (1)

Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Trifolium wormskioldii (1)

Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Trilium ovatum(1)

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Trimerotropis infantilis (1)

Horowitz, M. (2003). Alternatives to chemical stump treatment of Acacia dealbeta. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Truckee River (1)

Donaldson, S. G. (1997). Flood-borne noxious weeds: Impacts on riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

true firs (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

tumbleweed (2)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., R. Sobhian, et al. (2006). Prospects for biological control of Russian thistle (tumbleweed). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Typha (2)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Typhaceae (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). Using a computer-based diagnostics program for the identification of weedy grasses. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Ulex europa (2)

Pitcairn, M. (1993). Introduction and distribution of biological control agents against exotic weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 9.

Prasad, R. and S. Naurais (1999). Invasiveness of alien plants: Some aspects of the impact of scotch broom (Cytisus scoparius (L.) link) on Douglas-fir seedlings and its control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ulex europaea (1)

Cooper, V. K. and B. J. Moritsch (1999). Weeding the wilderness: Non-native plant management at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ulex europaeus (6)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Corbin, J. D. and C. M. D'Antonio (2003). Too much of a good thing: Restoration of native biodiversity following soil nitrogen enrichment. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1997). Risk analysis of various weed control methods. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Heath, M., K. Moore, et al. (2005). Trees and shrubs discussion group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pitcairn, M. (1993). Introduction and distribution of biological control agents against exotic weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 9.

Steinmaus, S. (2002). Using climatic models to predict the potential range of invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ulmus (1)

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Undaria (1)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Undaria pinnatifida (3)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Thornber, C., B. Kinlan, et al. (2002). Invasion ecology of the Japanese alga Undaria pinnatifida in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

United States (1)

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

University of California Statewide Integrated Pest Management Project (1)

O'Connor-Marer, P. J. (1998). Handling herbicides safely: Protecting yourself, others, and the environment. California Exotic Pest Plant Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

upright veldtgrass (1)

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Urocyon littoralis catalinae (1)

Knapp, D. A. and J. J. Knapp (2005). Ecosystem protection through watershed-level prioritization on Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Uromyces salsolae (2)

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Urophora jaculata (1)

Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Urophora sirunaseva (2)

Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Spencer, D. F., M. J. Pitcairn, et al. (2005). Effect of fertilizer additions on yellow starthistle insect biological control agents. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

US Dept of the Interior (1)

Brown, W. Y. and A. G. Brown (1998). Campaign against invasive species: A call for action. California Exotic Pest Council '98 Symposium. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

use (3)

Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.

Gaskin, J. (1998). The use of molecular systematics to enhance the biological control of an invasive plant complex (Tamarix or salt cedar). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58-59.

Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.

Uta stansburiana (1)

Gibson, J. K. (2000). The presence of fennel affects the distribution of lizards on Santa Cruz Island. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

valley oak (1)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

veldtgrass (1)

Rodgers, J. and K. Cooper (2004). Dunes working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

velvet grass (1)

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Ventenata dubia (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Verbascum olympicum (1)

Randall, J. M. (1997). Weed alert! New invasive weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

vetch (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Vicia spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Vinca major (7)

Bossard, C., K. Moore, et al. (2005). A test of repeat flaming as a control for poison hemlock (Conium maculatum), Cape ivy (Delairia odorata), and periwinkle (Vinca major). California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Dudly, T. (2003). Riparian invaders: A multi-species approach. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Knapp, J. (2004). A gardener's dream, a land manager's nightmare: The spread of horticultural invasive plants into the wildlands of Santa Catalina Island. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Wright, R. (1996). Preliminary results from a Vinca major removal experiment. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Vulpia (1)

DiTomaso, J. (2003). Fire: Prescribed burning as a management tool. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Vulpia bromoides (4)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Gibson, J. and W. Bunn (2006). Factors that control non-native plant species within shaded fuelbreaks at Whiskeytown National Recreation Area. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
Pickart, A. J. and K. S. Wear (1999). The ecology of Parentucellia viscosa in dune wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Vulpia myuros (5)

Bauder, E. T. (1996). Exotics in the southern California bernal pool ecosystem. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.
Giessow, J. and P. Zedler (1996). The effects of fire frequency and firebreaks on the abundance and species richness of exotic plant species in coastal sage scrub. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '96. San Diego, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
McGraw, J. (2002). Management of rare native species amidst exotic plant competition: Insights from Santa Cruz County's endemic sandhills community. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
Quinn, L., B. Davis, et al. (2006). Does horse manure harbor invasive plants? Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Vulpia octoflora (1)

Smith, S. D. (2001). Effects of increased CO₂ and nitrogen deposition on desert invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Vulpia spp. (1)

Lair, K., N. Ritter, et al. (2006). Restoration of retired San Joaquin Valley farmlands using herbicides and activated charcoal. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Vulpian octoflora (1)

Brooks, M. L. and T. C. Esque (1999). Alien grasses in the Mojave and Sonoran deserts. California Exotic Pest

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

wakame (2)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

wake robin (1)

Shoulders, C. (2001). Successful removal of cape ivy and recovery of riparian vegetation on two acres along Redwood Creek, Marin County: Changes in cover three years after removal. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

wallflower tumble-mustard (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

walnut (1)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Washingtonia robusta (3)

Kelly, M. (2001). Drilling as a technique for controlling eucalyptus, palms & other exotic trees. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2002). 2002 Red alert! New introductions and recent expansions in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

water (1)

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

water chestnut(1)

Anderson, L., K. Zaremba, et al. (2004). Aquatic working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

water hyacinth (4)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Blair M.D., C. E. (2006). Invasive aquatic weeds: Implications for mosquito and vector management activities. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Crosson, H. A. (2004). Water gardening: Pathway to paradise or plant invasion? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

water primrose(3)

Anderson, L. (2003). Aquatic weeds: Policy, prevention, and control. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Blair M.D., C. E. (2006). Invasive aquatic weeds: Implications for mosquito and vector management activities. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

Meisler, J. A. (2005). Control of water primrose (Ludwigia hexapetala) in a freshwater wetland. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

water use (1)

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

waxy mannagrass (1)

Gerlach, J. and H. Meimberg (2006). Central Valley vernal pools invaded by waxy mannagrass (Glyceria declinata). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

weed (25)

Allen, E. B. (1998). Restoring habitats to prevent exotics. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 41-44.

Anderson, B. (1995). Salt cedar, revegetation and riparian ecosystems in the Southwest. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 32-41.

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.

Bossard, C. and C. Benefield (1995). War on German ivy: good news from the front. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 63-64.

Boyd, D. (1995). Use of fire to control French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 9-12.

Brooks, M. L. (1998). Factors affecting alien annual plant abundance at a site in the western Mojave Desert: effects of human disturbance, microhabitat and rainfall. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 69.

Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.

Deuser, C. (1998). Exotic plant control to preserve and restore riparian areas in numerous national park units. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 67-68.

DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.

DiTomaso, J. M. (2006). Invasive weeds from the nursery. 58: 83-85.

DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.

DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.
- Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.
- Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.
- Roja, D. and J. Popenoe (1998). Fire effects on first-year Scotch broom in Redwood National and state parks. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 59-60.
- Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.
- Sanders, A. C. (1998). Invasive exotics in California: A perspective from inland Southern California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 7-10.
- Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.
- St. John, T. (1998). Nitrate immobilization and the mycorrhizal network for control of exotic ruderals. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 65-67.
- Strong, D. R. and C. C. Daehler (1995). Alien cordgrasses in Pacific estuaries. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 25-28.
- Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.
- Young, J. A., C. D. Clements, et al. (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. M. Kelly. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 6: 46-47.
- Young, J. A., D. E. Palmquist, et al. (1995). Ecology and control of perennial pepperweed (Lepidium latifolium L.). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 29-31.

weed wrench (1)

- Bossard, C., M. Alvarez, et al. (1995). A test of removal/control techniques for French broom. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62-63.

weeds (1)

- DiTomaso, J. M. (2006). Invasive weeds from the nursery. 58: 83-85.

weevil (3)

- Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

west (1)

- Young, J. A. and R. R. Blank (1995). Cheatgrass and wildfires in the intermountain west. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 6-8.

Western snowy plover (1)

Peterson, B. (2004). The use of heavy machinery (excavators) to remove Ammophila arenaria (European beachgrass) from native sand dunes at Point Reyes National Seashore. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

western wheatgrass mixedgrass (1)

Goodwin, K. (2005). Montana weed prevention areas: Partnerships for rangeland protection. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

wetland (2)

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Spent, R. O., T. C. Foin, et al. (2004). Invasion dynamics of perennial pepperweed along the salinity gradient. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium '04. Ventura, CA, Cal-IPC. 8: 30-34.

wetlands (2)

Dudley, T. (1995). Overview of biological invasions in California riparian areas and wetlands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 62.

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

white rust (1)

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

white top (1)

Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.

white-root sedge (1)

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

wild oat (4)

Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Grasses working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Marler, M. J. and R. M. Callaway (2000). Role of mycorrhizae in Centaurea invasions. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Minnich, R. A. (2004). California's fading wildflower legacy. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

wild radish (1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Uschyk, K. L. and P. Slattery (2000). The use of native yellow lupines for controlling riggut brome and radish. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

wildland (3)

Archbald, G. (1998). Mechanical control methods: beyond weed bashing. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 34-38.

Lovich, J. E. and R. C. de Gouvenain (1998). Saltcedar invasion in desert wetlands of the southwestern United States: ecological and political implications. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 45-55.

Morey, S. C. and K. E. Shaffer (1995). Exotic plant considerations in the wake of a wildland fire. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly, J. Lovich and J. Randall. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 20-24.

Wildlands Restoration Team (1)

Moore, K., G. Hayes, et al. (1995). Volunteers and long-term community support for effective pest plant control. Proceedings California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

willow (4)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Dempsey, J. and W. Elliott (2005). Invasive plant control at California State Parks in the northern Sacramento Valley. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Hunter, J. C., J. C. Sterling, et al. (2003). The abundance and distribution of non-native woody species in Sacramento Valley riparian zones. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

willowly monardella (1)

Burrascano, C. (2001). Review of the impact of invasive weeds on two endangered plant species: Acanthomintha ilicifolia (San Diego thornmint) and Monardella linoides ssp. viminea (willowly monardella). California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

wiregrass (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). 2003 Cal-IPC red alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out For. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

WMA (2)

Knox, A. (1997). Interagency cooperation for noxious weed control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Schoenig, S. (1999). Weed management areas in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '99. Sacramento, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

woolly distaff thistle (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2004). 2004 Cal-IPC Red Alert! New invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Plant Council.

Xanthium spp. (1)

Carrithers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Xanthium strumarium (1)

Carrithers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

yellow bush lupine (4)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Corbin, J. D. and C. M. D'Antonio (2003). Too much of a good thing: Restoration of native biodiversity following soil nitrogen enrichment. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Pickart, A. (2003). A decade of dune restoration at the Lanphere Dunes. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Slattery, P. N., K. L. Uschyk, et al. (2003). Controlling weeds with weeds: Disturbance, succession, yellow lupines and their role in the successful restoration of a native dune community. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

yellow field-cress (1)

Tu, M. and J. M. Randall (2003). Red Alert! New weeds to fear in California... Accidentally omitted from the 2000 CalEPPC proceedings. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

yellow flag iris (1)

Connick, S. and M. Gerel (2004). Partnering to prevent invasions of plants of horticultural origin. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

yellow glandweed (1)

DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). 2005 Cal-IPC weed alerts, new invasions, recent expansions, and a few others to be on the look-out for.... California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

yellow hair grass (1)

Clifford, P., A. J. Pickart, et al. (2005). Invasive annual grasses in a coastal dune ecosystem. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

yellow low lush lupine (1)

Uschyk, K. L. and P. Slattery (2000). The use of native yellow lupines for controlling ripgut brome and radish. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

yellow lupine (1)

Lair, K. and M. Ryan (2003). Revegetation: When and how. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

yellow starthistle (43)

- Aslan, C., M. Hufford, et al. (2006). The need for increased cooperation and coordination in yellow starthistle invasion management in Sierra Nevada foothill rangelands. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Briscoe, E. and T. Anderson (2000). War on weeds - invasive weed education and outreach program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Butler, E. and S. Britting (1998). Mapping and control of weeds in the American River Parkway. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 60-63.
- Carruthers, V., B. Miller, et al. (2005). Aminopyralid: A new reduced risk active ingredient for control of broadleaf invasive and noxious weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Carruthers, V. F. (1997). Using Transline* herbicide to control invasive plants. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '97. Concord, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Carruthers, R. and J. Buettner (2003). Biocontrols: Progress and ongoing needs. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Clines, J. (2005). Preventing weed spread via contaminated hay and straw. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Clines, J., J. DiTomaso, et al. (2004). Fire working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- DiTomaso, J. (2003). Fire: Prescribed burning as a management tool. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (1995). Overview of extension non-crop weed research in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. J. Lovich, J. Randall and M. Kelly. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 47-49.
- DiTomaso, J. M. (2005). Efficacy and safety of new herbicides on the horizon. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- DiTomaso, J. M., C. Benefield, et al. (1998). Reproductive biology of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) maximizing late season control. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 58.
- DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (1998). Prescribed burning for control of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) and enhanced native plant diversity. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '98. Ontario, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council. 4: 63.
- DiTomaso, J. M., G. B. Kyser, et al. (2001). Integrated management of yellow starthistle and medusahead using prescribed burning and clopyralid. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Eagle, A. J., M. E. Eiswerth, et al. (2006). Economic impacts of yellow starthistle on California ranchers. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Flarity, S. (2006). Salmon River cooperative noxious weed program. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Gelbard, J. L. and S. Harrison (2001). Interactive effects of roads, soils, and exposure on invasion of Calif. grasslands. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Heiple, P. and K. Himes (2004). Volunteer exotic removal efforts and success at Egdewood County Park and Preserve, San Mateo County, California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Hulvey, K. and E. Zavaleta (2006). The effect of native forb abundance on invasion resistance in California grasslands. Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Ill, W. L. B., D. G. Luster, et al. (2004). Status of Puccinea jacea var. solstitialis in 2004 for biological control of yellow starthistle in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Jones, T. and J. DiTomaso (2002). Yellow starthistle control using native grassland restoration. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

- Keeley, J. E. (2004). Fire management impacts on invasive species at the wildland/urban interface in California. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Kirk, A. A., T. Widmer, et al. (2003). The potential contribution of natural enemies from Mediterranean Europe to the management of the invasive weed Arundo donax (Graminae; Arundinae) in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Lortie, C. J., J. Hierro, et al. (2004). Seed and seedbank dynamics of the highly invasive weed yellow starthistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pirosko, C. and S. Schoenig (2004). Forbs working group. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Pitcairn, M. (1993). Introduction and distribution of biological control agents against exotic weeds in California. California Exotic Pest Plant Symposium '93. Westlake Village, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council - CalEPPC News. 1: 9.
- Romanowitz, H. (2000). Using volunteers in regional mapping programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Rusmore, J. T. (1995). Use of fire and cutting to control yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium '95. M. Kelly and J. Lovich. Pacific Grove, CA, California Exotic Pest Plant Council: 13-19.
- Smith, L. (2000). Biological control of yellow starthistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2005). Status of new agents for biological control of yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Smith, L., M. Cristofaro, et al. (2002). Biological control programs for yellow starthistle and Russian thistle. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Smith, R. L., V. F. Carrithers, et al. (2006). Managing rangeland invasive plants with Aminopyralid (Milestone™). Cal-IPC Symposium. Rohnert Park, CA, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Spencer, D. F., S. F. Enloe, et al. (2004). Impacts of mowing and bud destruction on yellow starthistle root dynamics and flowering. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Spencer, D. F., M. J. Pitcairn, et al. (2005). Effect of fertilizer additions on yellow starthistle insect biological control agents. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Sperber, T. and F. T. Griggs (2005). Suppressing exotic weeds on restoration projects using an aggressive herbaceous understory. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2005. Chico, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Thomsen, C. D. (2000). Bear Creek watershed restoration program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Torrence, J., J. M. DiTomaso, et al. (2002). Long-term, large-scale, integrated management of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) at Fort Hunter Liggett, Monterey County, California: Lower cost follow-up maintenance is vital for successful control program. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2002. Sacramento, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Torrence, J. R., J. M. DiTomaso, et al. (2001). Large-scale integrated management of yellow starthistle (Centaurea solstitialis) at Fort Hunter Liggett, Monterey County, California. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2001. San Diego, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Warner, J. (2004). Funding invasive plant projects through the farm bill. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2004. Ventura, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Widmer, T. L., A. A. Kirk, et al. (2003). The European Biological Control Laboratory: Contributing to successful management of invasive species in the U.S. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.
- Yacoub, R. (2000). Cooperative yellow starthistle leading edge mapping project. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.
- Young, J. A. and C. D. Clements (2000). Purple starthistle seed germination. California Exotic Pest Plant Council Symposium 2000. Concord, California, California Exotic Pest Plant Council.

yellow toadflax(1)

Bibliography – Cal-IPC Symposium Proceedings, 1/25/2008

Donaldson, S., W. West, et al. (2003). Getting the job done: Working within the regulatory environment at Lake Tahoe to manage weeds. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Yerba mansa (1)

Wilson, R. (2003). Perennial pepperweed: What works? California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Zayante band-winged grasshopper (1)

Horowitz, M. (2003). Alternatives to chemical stump treatment of Acacia dealbeta. California Invasive Plant Council Symposium 2003. Kings Beach, California, California Invasive Plant Council.

Zygophyllum fabago (1)

O'Connell, R. A. (1999). The state of California's noxious weed eradication programs. California Exotic Pest Plant Council. Sacramento, CA, California Exoatic Pest Plant Council.