

Weed Alert!

Jointed goatgrass

Jointed goatgrass

(Aegilops cylindrica)

Mature Size Waist

Description

- 2½-4 ft. annual grass
- 1-5 in. seedheads are cylindrical to cone-shaped, with very long, minutely barbed bristles
- Grass leaves are up to ½ in. wide, and have evenly spaced, fine hairs along margins
- Membrane at junction of leaf blade and outer grass sheath is short and papery
- Matures later than most annual grasses, late spring to early summer
- Reproduces by seed
- Spread by machinery, contaminated seed, livestock, hay, wind
- Native to the Mediterranean region and western Asia

Bloom Period May - Jun

Habitat Disturbed sites, grassland, woodland, agriculture

2-Minute Removal Pull

Image credits: All from Bugwood.org - Front top/bottom: USDA APHIS PPQ Archive, USDA APHIS PPQ, Front center: Joseph M. DiTomaso, University of California, Back top/bottom: Steve Dewey, Utah State University, Back center: Steve Hurst, hosted by the USDA-NRCS PLANTS Database; icons by Tim Hyland
These cards were adapted from a design by National Park Service.